CONSULTANT CONNECTION

VOLUME 2, ISSUE 1

Inside this Issue

Retraction

The Missouri Department of Natural Resources published this issue in error and hereby retracts the entire issue. Some of the articles are premature, specifically the articles

“Delineation Criteria and Use of Off-Site Properties Under the MRBCA Process for Petroleum Storage Tanks” and “Using Quality Assurance Project Plans at Petroleum Sites.”

I apologize for the confusion and potential frustration created by the issuance of these articles.

A new and corrected Tanks Consultant Connection will be issued later to replace this Volume 2, Issue 1.

The department is committed to continual improvement of our actions, efforts and coordination with those with whom we work. We want to share the guidance and direction in the articles above through our stakeholder process before being published as guidance. If you know anyone who should receive this newsletter, please send their contact information through the application process on the back of this newsletter. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions or information you wish to relay.
