So you have a WQAR Preliminary Determination... now what?

- Applicants have the option to follow 1 out of 3 pathways to receive:
  - Public notice of operating permit & WQAR
  - Construction permit
  - Final operating permit

Choosing a Pathway

- A certain amount of risk is associated with each pathway:
  - Delays?
  - Re-public notice?
  - An Addendum to the Antidegradation Review Report?
  - A completely new Antidegradation Review Report?

3 Pathways

Preferred

Past

Central Office furnishes the preliminary determination of the WQAR.

The Applicant can choose to follow any of the 3 pathways in order to receive a construction permit and ultimately an operating permit. All pathways require submittal of the WQAR with the initial step.

Choosing a Pathway

- The risks and uncertainties pose the question...

How much time and money
will be spent on design
before the public notice?

MDNR Loan or Grant Projects

- These projects will follow Pathway 1
- Rough outline of the process:
  - 1) Pre-Facility Plan Submittal meeting
  - 2) Submit Antidegradation Review Report
  - 3) Submit public notice request of the operating permit with the WQAR
  - 4) Submit Facility Plan
  - 5) Submit Plans & Specifications with the construction permit application
