42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES 2 story, 4 bay, symmetrically massed, stucco/frame dwelling with front gable roof with "bungalow-type" wood braces. Porch attached to front elevation (east) is 1921 alteration with pedestals (brick/stucco) with wide square columns that support entablature and front gable roof. First and third bays contain picture windows; second and fourth bay have single doors. Two-bay second 43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE story has paired 1/1 windows in each; paired vented openings in gable wall. All fenestration has plain wood frames with narrow cornices. Building permits for a wash house in 1890 for applicant John Broder and a porch in 1921 indicate the original construction of this dwelling to be pre1887; however, features of such a not apparent. It is an obviously remodeled dwelling but any identifiable exterior features of the pre1921 construction phase are no longer evident. It has a moderate degree of integrity and is significant as a representation of early 20th century vernacular residential property type. (On 1883 Sanborn map.) 44. 43. The only building permit for the dwelling is one issued to E.L. Spratt in 1925 when major alterations were performed on the existing ca1880 original structure. The existing porch may be an original configuration but elements are more recent. It has a high degree of integrity (excepting porch alteration) and is significant as a representation of transition Italianate/Queen Anne residential property type.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES 2 story, 7 bay, asymmetrical, brick dwelling with hip roof (flat roof on side addition) and molded frieze. Recessed first and second bays each contain 2/2 window with stone lug sill and brick hoodmold with flat keystone (typical treatment of left four bays); porch attached to bays has decorative wrought iron supports and railing on upper deck (new materials); second story has single door opening. Third and fourth bays in projecting wings have typical windows both stories, fourth has single door on first story. Recessed fifth and sixth bays have 2/2 windows in arched openings with stone sill and brick lintel (typical of right 3 bays) and door openings, both stories; similar porch on these bays. First bay flat roof side addition has paired 1/1 windows on first story, a single 2/2 window on second. 43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE There are no building permits of record for this dwelling; however, stylistic features indicate a ca1860 original construction. It has a moderate degree of integrity and is significant as a representation of Italianate residential property type.
