Major Flood Levels Forecast for the Lower Missouri River

- Above Glasgow the Missouri River has crested and is expected to continue to decline over the forecast period, however the river is still in moderate to major flood stage in several locations.
- From Glasgow to Jefferson city the river is cresting in the next 1-2 days and predicted to then decline over the forecast period.
- Releases from Gavin's Point Dam on the Missouri River have been lowered to 24,000 cfs. The latest bulletin indicates that the flood control pool there is now 58.5% full.
- Only moderate precipitation is expected over the weekend in the region.
24-hour Observed Precipitation
Three-Day Total Quantitative Precipitation Forecast (QPF)
Seventh-Day Total Quantitative Precipitation Forecast (QPF)
Near Atchison County, MO

At Brownville, NE the Missouri River has fallen to moderate flood stage at 39.4 feet. It is now forecast to continue falling through the end of the forecast period into minor flood stage.
At Rulo, NE the Missouri River has crested in major flood stage and fallen into moderate flood stage of 25.3 feet. The river is expected to decline through the forecast period.
At St. Joseph, MO the Missouri River has crested in major flood stage and dropped to 29.1 feet. The river is expected to decline through the forecast period.
• At Atchison, KS the Missouri River has crested in major flood stage and dropped to 30.2 feet. The river is expected to continue to decline through the forecast period.
Above Parkville KS the Missouri River has crested in major flood stage and dropped to a moderate flood stage of 30.2 feet. The river is expected to continue to decline through the forecast period.
At Sibley, there appears to be some issues with the gage, however the river appears to have dropped to moderate flood stage.
• At Napoleon, MO the Missouri River is cresting in moderate flood stage at 28.07 feet. The river is expected to continue to decline through the forecast period.
- At Glasgow, MO the Missouri River is in moderate flood stage at 30.47 feet and is forecast to crest in moderate flood stage at 31.3 feet Monday (3/25/19).
- Moderate flooding occurs at 27.0 feet.
At Jefferson City, the Missouri River is in minor flood stage at 24.03 feet and is forecast to crest in moderate flood stage at 26.0 feet Tuesday (3/26/19).

Moderate flooding occurs at 25.0 feet.
Resources for Further Information

- Department of Natural Resources Flood Page: https://dnr.mo.gov/flood
- National Weather Service – Missouri River Flooding: https://www.weather.gov/oax/missouririverflooding