The Lone Oak General Baptist Church is a simple rectangular gable-end church of frame construction with shingle siding. Architectural ornament is minimal. Window openings are rectangular. There is a separate vestibule section. The entrance has a small gabled porch.

The congregation first met in a brush arbor just east of the present church building. In 1921, they organized a church, named Pleasant Valley Church, and built their first building on one acre donated by Jack Dunning. In 1951, they built the present church.
The front porch has a hip roof with wood supports. Rafter ends are exposed at the eaves. Windows are double-hung wood sash with three vertical panes over a single pane. Siding is artificial.

   This cotton ginning complex has several related buildings and structures, including a two-story main building with side-gable roof, a round ancillary building, a storage shed, and complex industrial structures. Machinery in the interior is intact.
43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE
   Albert and Hugo Boeving, two brothers who were prominent businessmen in Butler County, opened this cotton gin in Broseley in 1926. The Boeving Brothers also established cotton gins in Fagus (1919), Fisk (1928), and Qulin (1934). Butler County had numerous cotton gins between 1900 and the 1930s. Most have disappeared. This complex, with machinery intact, is very significant.

The barn now has a classic shape with front-facing gable and roof extension over the loft.

John C. Smith built this barn ca. 1852, with a later addition, using red oak timbers and square iron nails. This barn was part of a lively homestead with a general store, grist mill, saw mill, and blacksmith shop.

This simple rural church shows many signs of remodeling. In 1958, members remodeled the sanctuary. In 1965, they added a large block for Sunday school classrooms, and in 1976, they added a fellowship hall and bathrooms.

History and Significance

The congregation was established in 1842. Among the early pastors of the church were William Combs and Dan Shipman. The church is an important landmark in the Cane Creek area, one of the earliest settled areas in Butler County. In 1899, W. W. Sparkman first deeded land for a church. The first church, built in 1904, was damaged in a windstorm. The present church was built in 1934. During the 1940s, after the Cane Creek School burned, the church was used for a school.

The Fisk Pool Hall is a gable-end frame commercial building with a false front. The front of the building has a full porch with shed-style roof supported by simple wooden posts. False front has a step-type parapet covered with shingles.

This building does not appear on the 1924 Sanborn Map, and so it probably did not exist before 1925, although it appears to belong to an earlier period.

The building is sited on a corner lot in a thriving small town.

History and Significance

This building does not appear on the 1924 Sanborn Map, and so it probably did not exist before 1925, although it appears to belong to an earlier period.

Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The building is sited on a corner lot in a thriving small town.
This is a simple open gable frame house with a rectangular shape and a side-passage floorplan. Windows are rectangular, double-hung, with wooden sash, three lights over a single light.

Ash Hill General Baptist Church is a simple rural Protestant Church of the gable-front center-steeple type, constructed ca. 1915 of concrete blocks. The narrow center steeple has a pyramidal roof. Window openings on the sides have brick arches and sills. Windows are two-over-two wood sash type. There

At the turn of the century, members of this congregation helped to organize a General Baptist congregation in Fisk. At that time, Ash Hill (then called Nye) was a thriving community on the Cairo Branch of the Missouri Pacific Railroad. By the 1980s, the church was one of the very few buildings remaining in Ash Hill.

Thomason and Price Survey Plan, 1991
Site # BU-6

The church is sited on high ground well back from a dirt road. There is a cemetery associated with it.
42. is a brick exterior end chimney. The glass and wood entrance doors were installed ca. 1980.

This small house has an enclosed front porch with shed-style roof. Rafter ends are exposed at the eaves.

The house is set on a hill. There are several outbuildings, including a barn, in the rear.
This small farmhouse has a front porch set on piers with a shed roof supported by wooden columns.

The house is part of a pristine farm complex set in a picturesque hollow. There are a garage and a dog-trot barn (BU-PO-80).
Indicate the chief topographical features, such as streams and elevations. Also indicate houses and roads. Indicate the site location by enclosing the site area with dotted line. Note scale of map and portion of section included in sketch map. Include drawings, photographs, etc. on additional pages.

Indicate part of section included in sketch map.

Notes:

THIS IS PROBABLY THE ONE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF THIS DATA FORM!

Please Attach a copy of a topographic map with the site marked on it.
This dog-trot barn has no cupolas or other ornamental details. Its appearance is neat, functional, and symmetrical.

The barn is a part of a pristine farm complex in a picturesque hollow. The dog-trot form is typical of Butler County.

United Methodist Church

Address: Northwest corner of Third Street and Ponder Street (1924 Sanborn Map)

This gable-end center-steeple church has a gabled entry porch supported by wooden pillars on brick piers. The steeple has two sections, the upper one smaller than the lower one. The steeple is covered by a steeply-pitched pyramidal roof.

This is the third building on the original site of Harviell's first church, a log community church, erected ca. 1900, when Harviell was a thriving lumber town. A second building, erected in 1911, burned in 1953. This building was constructed soon thereafter.

Further Description of Important Features
This imposing house has a full two-story front porch supported by turned wooden posts, with a wooden railing on the second story. Windows are wood sash double hung, two-over-two lights in the primary facade, four-over-four in the ell.

History and Significance
This may have been the two-story foreman's house built by the railroad in the town's heyday as a lumbering center. It is located very near the site of the old depot.

| This is a classic barn with gambrel roof and front-facing gabled roof extension over loft. |

| 43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE | Route 0 runs north from Poplar Bluff to the town of Hendrickson, a distance of about twelve miles. Along this route there are many substantial early twentieth-century farms. In 1900 Hendrickson was a thriving railroad town in the midst of timber and iron country. By the late twentieth century, the town had dwindled to a village of around fifty people. It seems reasonable to assume that the farms grew up on land cleared by the timber companies. Further study is needed. |

FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES: This simple gable-front, center-steeple church exhibits craftsman influences in its exposed roof rafter ends.

HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE:

This congregation was organized in 1896 after a revival meeting at the schoolhouse in Hendrickson. The first church was built ca. 1900. By 1917, that church building showed signs of delapidation, and the congregation once again resorted to meeting in the schoolhouse. In 1939 they built this church, which was completed on Sept. 20 of that year. The church is a fine example of the type of simple rural church constructed in Butler county between 1900 and the 1950s.

DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS:

The church and one outbuilding (in rear) are beautifully sited on a wooded hilltop.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES

The first story of this handsome house sits high off the ground over a basement. Concrete steps lead to a large entry porch with hip roof supported by wooden posts. The porch has a wooden railing. There is a shed addition on the south side.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

This is one of the few remaining buildings in the old town of Hendrickson, which flourished as a lumbering, mining, and railroad town between 1900 and the 1930s.

44. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS

The house is sited well back from the road on a wooded lot. There are stone retaining walls.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES
This simple country church has a square tower on the gable-end. The off-center tower has an arched vent and a pyramidal roof.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE
A church group organized in 1949 originally held meetings in Agee School, District 22. In 1952, Ruby and Merlin Birdsong donated two acres for construction of a non-denominational community church. The building, located at the corner of Agee and Clayton roads, was built with donations and free labor. There was no fund-raising. The congregation met in the basement for several years before building the main auditorium, which seats two hundred.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES
   This gable-front store has a full porch with shed roof supported by wrought iron posts. The facade has apparently been altered, with new siding and new windows.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE
   This is the last remnant of the commercial life of Hilliard, an old railroad and iron-mining town in northern Butler County. The Iron Mountain Railroad came through the town in 1872 and built a spur to a local iron mine. The timber industry also prospered here briefly.

This is a 90' steel lookout tower with a closed cabin, typical of those erected by the CCC in the 1930s.

This is one of two extant fire towers in Butler County. The other, Oak Tower, is the property of the U.S.D.A. Forest Service.

There is a gated road, preventing access.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES

   The original configuration of this rural church remains evident despite the large brick addition, amounting to a completely new building attached to the east side of the old gable-end center-steeple structure. The old church was wood with a steeple topped by a pyramidal roof.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

   The church was organized in 1892; the older structure was erected in 1947; the new addition was built in 1984.

44. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS

   There is a cemetery behind the church.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES

This long, low side-gable cabin has an interior brick chimney. There are two front doors and an asymmetrical arrangement of windows in the facade. A roof extension shelters the entrances. There is an addition in the rear. Windows are double-hung wood sash, two-over-two lights.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

The cabin is located near Ringo's Ford on the Little Black River, an early locus of settlement in Butler County.

44. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS

The house is sited on a ridgeline overlooking Highway 160 near the bridge over the Little Black River.

The entry porch has a shed-style roof covered with metal and supported by wooden posts. There is a shed addition on the side. Windows are double-hung wood sash with three vertical panes over a single pane.
This old service station presents an interesting facade at what was formerly a major highway intersection. The primary facade faces the old highway. Two wings extend at less than 90 degree angles from the facade. Old concrete pads for gas pumps remain. There is a portico with hip roof.

This building was constructed for Dr. Robert L. Turner, prominent physician and Neelyville Booster.

This craftsman-style commercial building has a hip roof that extends out over a portico. Rafter ends are exposed at the eaves. Windows are double-hung wood sash six-over-six. A central door is flanked by windows. There is a side addition.

This is a somewhat deteriorated but intact example of a pre-Depression service station on a major highway.

There is a separate craftsman-style building that probably housed the rest rooms.
There is a gabled entry porch. Windows are double-hung wood sash with three vertical panes over a single pane. There is an addition in the rear.

There are two large silos behind this house.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES

This long low building has a hip roof with exposed rafter ends at the eaves. Originally built as a segregated school for black students, the building was subsequently converted to a home ec building and garage for the Neelyville high school.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

This building survives as a reminder of the completely segregated school systems that existed even in small communities like Neelyville before the civil rights decisions of the 1950s. Washington School closed in 1963.

47. ORGANIZATION

This unusual building has the appearance of a single-entry storefront with central entry sheltered by overhanging shed-style roof. Flanking windows are double-hung wood sash four-over-four lights. The roof is flat with a parapet.

There are two outbuildings in close proximity to this small house. One (BU-NE-51) is a barn with a metal roof.
This simple cabin-like building has a central brick chimney. The facade has a single off-center door.

The V. H. Steward house is a two-and-one-half-story residence of the American four-square type with craftsman elements, including exposed roof rafters. This large farm house has a pyramidal hip roof with a central dormer. There is a full one-story front porch on the primary facade. However, an original

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE
The present owner reports that the house was built as a summer/vacation residence by the Missouri Secretary of State in 1927 and was soon purchased by a prominent banker, V. H. Steward. Steward and his family loved horses and stabled many of them on the property.

44. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS
The house forms the central structure in a modern farm operation. Outbuildings are not original.

16. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES

This is a simple rectangular gable-end building of frame construction with a bell tower in the center of the roof above the primary facade. A large frame addition obscures the original front of the building. The bell tower has a pyramidal roof.

17. HISTORIC AND SIGNIFICANCE

The Baskey No. 1 School was constructed in 1912 on an acre of land purchased from Hedwig Krog and Albert C. Krog. In the 1960s, this school consolidated with Baskey No. 2 School (Route AA and BC604) and built the Lake Road School.

18. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS

There is a wooden shelter or pavilion in front of the building.

Hedspeth Log Home

County: Butler

Location: Poplar Bluff vicinity

Description: Located on a private road, on the south side of Route JJ, one mile west of Highway 67.

Further Description of Important Features

This horizontal log home has an L-shaped plan. There is some weatherboard siding. The roof is dealapidated.

History and Significance

Henry Hedspeth built this cabin ca. 1850 in the vicinity of Keener Spring, where there was a mill. In 1874, he dismantled the home and moved it across the road to its present site.

Description of Environment and Outbuildings

There is a modern home and an outbuilding on the property. View of the cabin is obscured.

Old Cabin at Keener Spring Resort

Coordinates (UTM)
- LAT:
- LONG:

Description of Location
Located on the east side of Highway JJ, just south of Wayne County line.

Histories and Significance
This is the last remaining original cabin at Keener Spring Resort. Originally, there were several log cabins constructed in the 1880s for tourists. In the 1920s, developers built a new group of cabins.

Description of Environment and Outbuildings
This cabin is separated by a rock wall from the present Keener Spring Resort.

Remnants of original complex remain in this utilitarian complex, now a seed company.

Albert and Hugo Boeving opened this cotton gin in Quilin in 1934. The Boeving Brothers previously established cotton gins in Fagus (1919), Brosely (1926), and Fisk (1928).
Modern features include use of architectural glass. The building is basically square with two bays recessed to form an entrance porch covered by a shed style roof.

   Quin's first post office was located in the home of Alfred Kelly, who operated it until just before his death in 1896.
   When the town was incorporated in 1908, Mrs. Ruth Craft became its first postmistress. The post office was built before the railroad came through town, and mail was carried by wagon. The post office was moved to its present location in 1939.

This school building has a projecting central entrance bay with rounded corners. Entrance doors are recessed. There is ornamental brick work at the cornice and on the projecting bay. This school compares favorably with the Rombauer School.

This architect-designed school building has significance in the areas of Education and Architecture. It represents a significant investment in a community stricken by the Great Depression.
The Qulin School District incurred a debt in the early 1940s in order to build a modern high school and gymnasium, with WPA assistance. This building, which was the gymnasium, continues to function as part of the middle school facilities.

This small country school has a small entry porch with a shed-style roof supported by wooden posts. There is only one window in the primary facade.

Gentzen #69 School began holding classes before 1907. Named for William Gentzen, a school district official, the school was originally located in a rural area 1 3/4 miles east of Quin. In 1922, the building was moved to a site two miles west of Quin on Route N, where it continued to function as a school. In 1939, a kitchen was added. After consolidation of the schools in 1945, the old school was moved to its present site in Quin, north of the present school.

FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES

This is a simple gable-end frame building with a full front porch covered by a gable roof. There are exposed rafters at the eaves. Porch supports are simple wooden posts.

HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

The community of Rombauer was established in 1901 and 1902. The first post master was Mrs. Lizzie Sanders, followed by her sister, Miss Bessie Zoll, who served for 39 years. Miss Zoll was succeeded by Rev. Chester Hamm and then by Mrs. Iva Zoll, who served from 1953 to 1977. Simple country post office buildings such as this one are rapidly disappearing.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES
   This is a large double-pen house in a bungalow style with four large dormers, one on each side of the hip roof. There is a full front porch with hip roof supported by plain wooden posts. Craftsman details include exposed rafter ends at the eaves. The porch roof curves around the side of the house to form a carport.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE
   This is a very prominent building in the old town of Rombauer, which is sadly declining.

44. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS
   Streets are unpaved, and old wooden sidewalks are gone.

This very old cemetery has many unmarked graves. Many other graves are marked only with field stone. Of those monuments still standing and legible, the earliest is 1876.

Originally this was a family cemetery. Later it became a community cemetery. Early names associated with it are Berryman, Lewis, and Houts. Some people call it the Military Cemetery because of its location on the old Military Road through Butler County.
