2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Dutch Colonial Revival style with Craftsman influence. Rectangular plan. Four bay asymmetrical facade. Foundation not visible; vinyl sided walls (narrow exposure white). Gambrel and side gable (asphalt shingle) roofs. Multi-light/1 (with Craftsman style upper sash with small corner squares, narrow rectangular lights between, and central square light) double hung sash; shutters applied. Left/east three bays into gambrel front section; 3-light door in third bay. Fourth bay with 6/1 double hung sash pair into side gable section. c. 1928. Two sections flush at facade plane. Full-facade flat roof porch with low concrete deck, wood posts, wood open rail with rectangular outlines and wood slats. Craftsman style porch luminaires with pointed tops. East elevation three bays with window pair in second. Shed roof dormer with vinyl and asphalt shingle sided walls. Recessed lower one story wing to rear visible from east. Brick chimney left of gambrel ridge. Two bay west elevation with paired 6/1 nearly consuming the elevation wall.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Delightful one story outbuilding at rear lot barely visible from street. Pedestrian door north with gable hood. Clapboard walls and side gable roof. Pair of four-light windows with shutters. Exposed rafter tails. Tool/workshop? (possibly outbuilding shown on 1939 Sanborn Map)

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: (122) Mrs. Lucretia G. Wilson
 1915 City Directory: No listing
 1925 City Directory: (122) Conrad F. and Lucy Gray, laborer; Daniel and Emma Coffelt, carpenter
 1935 City Directory: (122) Joseph and Frieda Schwaller, janitor, Broadway School

This is likely the house which is shown as 122 on the 1923 Sanborn Map. The west one story wing is not shown, but the possibly addition of that wing may account for its 6/1 windows which differ from the main block of the house. A two story carriage barn is on the rear lot. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows the west wing. A one story garage is about where the current outbuilding is sited.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Hall and Parlor vernacular type. Rectangular plan. Three bay, slightly asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; asbestos shingle walls. Side gable (asphalt shingle) roof with small cornice returns on side elevations. Central 3/4 modern porch with concrete block foundation, poured concrete deck, and modern iron balustrade; tiny poles support aluminum awning. Facade with modern replacement door off-center to left with transom. Single windows in end bays. Central gable roof dormer nearly at roof eave; two windows, not paired. South elevation with interior end chimney cropped. Two first story windows; upper story window off-center toward rear with vent above. Cellar (bulkhead) door on south near alley. Lower one story shed roof wing rear.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

House set of rise accessed by poured concrete exterior lot stairs. Alley to south. Rear lot mostly parking. Remainder of block to south on higher elevation.
No outbuildings.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Gothic Revival influence. Rectangular plan. Three bay symmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick (painted white) walls. Side gable (asphalt shingle) roof. 2/2 double hung sash with stone lug sills; plain window heads. Extended raised limestone stoop with three pedestals and a double iron open rail. Central door with extensive panels, medallions, single light and drip mold form (or ledge-like feature) on the door itself; two-light transom. Door with early 20th century steep gable hood with round arched open bed with curved braces. 2/2 double hung sash on either side with tooled stone voussoir segmental arches with keystones and shoulders. Two central ridge chimneys, corbeled; partially concrete parged. Central gable wall dormer with main roof eaves as returns; pointed arch 2 vertical/2 vertical with header arch. Tie rod ends visible on dormer. Early 20th century hip roof dormers off-set from original fenestration on first story; single 1/1 windows in each. Rock-faced limestone semi-hexagonal flat roof one story bay north. South elevation with upper story door added; exterior wood staircase into former sash location as evidenced by soldier course segmental brick arch.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Extensive front limestone retaining wall (coursed rock-faced ashlar) set back c. 6' -8' from city sidewalk. (Perhaps not coincidentally, the house was occupied by a stone mason historically.) Double L-plan stairs toward right/south to raised stoop/terrace.
No outbuilding.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Joseph and Caroline Geisler, stone mason
 1915 City Directory: William and Amelia Magee, manager/Star Dynamo Co.
 1925 City Directory: Same, machinist
 1935 City Directory: Mrs. Amelia Magee, widow of William

The 1908 Sanborn does not show this section of the block. The house appears on the 1923 Sanborn Map with a central porch; rear wing fitted in ell around the house's northeast corner. Full rear elevation porch on the 1939 Sanborn Map.

Recommended for potential local landmark status. This central hall vernacular house type shows fine craftsmanship through its facade window treatment (stone voussoir arches with keystones and shoulders), north elevation bay, and brickwork. Its Gothic Revival influence is not found elsewhere in the neighborhood. The house ranks favorably with 707 and 714 Washington, and is among the earliest houses remaining in the Southside.

2.X Further Description

1 story with attic. Central Passage single pile vernacular type, altered. Rectangular plan. Three bay symmetrical facade. Parged foundation; brick walls (painted yellow); artificially sided wing; wood shingle dormer walls. Side gable (asphalt shingle) roof. Broad, 3/4 central shed roof porch c. 1920 with low poured concrete deck, brick posts, and side wood slat open rail; plain cornice. Central entrance with two-light paneled door; transom blocked. Infill replacement sash in end bays, with original openings not evident. Petite central gable roof dormer with 2/2 window occupying nearly all of the dormer's front. Interior end chimneys, both gable ends. Small shed frame rear wing at south end; one bay deep; single window faces south. South elevation fenestration in main house block with brick, flush with elevation plane. Converted to Ann's Sil-O-Ette hair salon.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Elm Street to north.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: August Raithel
 1915 City Directory: Mrs. Caroline Webber, widow of Alexander
 1925 City Directory: Same
 1935 City Directory: Josephine Weber, owner/occupant

Appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block. Two part rear wing shown. Two one story outbuildings. The 1923 Sanborn Map shows the house also having a 226 West Elm Street address. A nearly full-facade porch is shown on the 1939 Sanborn Map, but the 1923 did not consistently show porches, so the porch could date to the early 1920s. A one story rear outbuilding is shown.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Set on level area of ground at corner with West Ashley Street, raised alley in rear
Asbestos sided gable roof 1-car garage with fiberglass "carport" in front off Ashley Street

T. Significance

Similar to #711, #713, #715, #717, #719 Broadway

Six "clones" in a row, #711 and #721 have similar, larger rear elevations while the middle four have similar, smaller rear elevations according to the 1923 Sanborn Map. Modern alterations have been made to the rears however.

1908 City Directory: Victor & Fannie Victor, ass't. supt. Met Ins. Co.

1915 City Directory: J. Mac McMonigle, clerk at auditor

1925 City Directory: James L. & Etta Swearingin, owner, guard at State Prison

1935 City Directory: James & Etta Swearingin, owner, carpenter and nurse

This area does not appear on the 1908 Sanborn Map. The 1923 map shows this irregular plan dwelling with a porch across the rear pavilion. The 1939 map shows the front and rear porches; the garage is shown on the 1939 map.

2.X Further Description

One story. No style or type. Three storefront mid-nineteenth century commercial building, altered c. 1950. Rectangular plan. Foundation not visible; brick walls with mottled color brick facade scattered into the west side elevation's smooth brick about four stretchers deep. Shed (composition) asphalt roof; some tile coping. Central storefront with center door and blocked transom flanked by single large scale angled storefront sash. End bay storefronts mirror images, with narrower tall fixed sash, door and transom recessed on the end, and two large scale storefront sash toward the central storefront, angled with brick planters at the bulkhead. Brick parapet with minimal decoration including brickwork at parapet top (altering three course stretcher and soldier brick). Left/east storefront with sign panel attached. Rear modern concrete block section (with tavern) doubles the size of the building. East elevation common/attached to 120. West elevation exposed, with mixed fenestration and doors.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

West elevation exposed to large gravel parking lot between this and Jefferson Street-facing historic commercial buildings. Remainder of block to east solid historic commercial buildings.

T. Significance

- 1908 City Directory: 114: Ernest F. Buehrle, barber; 116: William J. Meier, meat market (lived at 810 Jefferson Street); 118: Louis Sachs, harness shop (lived at 907 Madison)

1935 City Directory: Schmidt's Shoe Store, Mrs. Josephine Schmidt residence

The 1908 Sanborn Map shows a 1-story building labeled "cobbler." The 1923 map shows the current 2-story building labeled a "store" with a shoe repair section in the rear and a 2-story rear porch. The 1939 map is similar.

The History of Jefferson City has an entry (p. 536) for John J. Schmidt who owns and operates a shoe store at 124 E. Dunklin at the same location that his father, John Conrad Schmidt, conducted business for nearly forty years. John Conrad Schmidt was a harness maker and merchant who had a retail shoe store and repair shop at 124 E. Dunklin since 1897.

1925 City Directory: South Side New & Second-Hand Furniture, Milo Walz
1935 City Directory: Milo H. Walz, furniture

There are no buildings at this location on the 1908 Sanborn Map. The 1923 map shows a 1-story frame store with a rear wing at this address. The current building with bridge is shown on the 1939 map.

The History of Jefferson City has an entry (p. 572) for Milo Walz and a picture of his store. In 1924 he bought the old Doerhoff store which he remodeled. He expanded to Madison Street, formally opening the enlarged store in November, 1936. This was one of the largest furniture stores in central Missouri.

The 1908 City Directory lists Milo Walz as living at 200 West Dunklin Street and working at H. Stephens Printing Co.; he lived with his father, Charles Walz, an undertaker at J.F. Heinrich's & Son.

2.X Further Description

One story with attic. No style or vernacular type. L-plan, five bay asymmetrical facade. Rock-faced limestone foundation; brick walls (painted yellow). Gabled truncated hip (asphalt shingle) roof. 1/1 double hung sash with soldier course segmental brick arches and stone lug sills; incised pattern window heads. Right/east bay gable front pavilion with two window on first story; round four-light (quarter divided muntins) attic sash with header surround. Gable with boxed cornice returns. Left/west reentrant angle with two windows left and three-light door in third bay with two-light transom. Shed roof reentrant (half) porch with raised wood deck, tall lattice panel base, and wood posts. Modern iron "x" open rail added. Plain cornice. West elevation with two windows. Rear single bay hip roof historic wing toward west 2/3 of house. Small rear shed roof historic wing with tile coping to east with rear door.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Located at the northwest corner of East Dunklin Street and Monroe Street. Low stone retaining wall setback c. 10' from city sidewalk with exterior lot stairs (iron pipe rail) from there to lot plateau and porch stairs. East elevation adjacent to odd side alley parallel to Monroe Street. Back lot part asphalt/gravel/dirt; no grassy yard. Side alley curves into a rear alley which is actually Cedar Street on this block, with some Cedar Street-facing houses toward the middle of the block.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: William and Anna Blanton, conductor with Missouri Pacific
 1915 City Directory: Edwin S. Austin
 1925 City Directory: Edwin S. and Alpha Austin, Secretary of State Highway Commission
 1935 City Directory: George J. Linker

The 1908 Sanborn Map does not cover this area. This house is shown on the 1923 Sanborn Map with a wing off the northeast corner. Two other dwellings are on the rear lot (#610 and #608 Monroe Street). The current side alley which parallels Monroe did not exist at that time; some reconfiguration of Wear's Creek evidently occurred on this block. No changes on the 1939 Sanborn.

2.X Further Description

One story. No style or type. Rectangular plan; four bay facade. Concrete foundation. Brick walls of two different types of brick. Facade with modern glass door in left bay; three tall tinted fixed sash in right three bays. Shed (composition/asphalt) roof. Yellow brick front section, c. 10' deep, appears to have been added more recently (c. 1965) than the construction of the building. Plain parapet with large sign panel attached in center; concrete coping this section. Yellow brick section, c. 1965, altered more recently with stucco infill up to the window top level, with the current windows being replacements even from c. 1965. Earlier section with 2/2 double hung sash and stone lug sills. Older red brick walls here; tile coping. Five symmetrical bays west. East elevation flush with 109-11 West Dunklin (Goodyear Tire). Rear with large concrete block addition painted yellow; 2 stories.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Among the West-East Dunklin commercial node, with the Apple Market across the street where the Capitol Brewing Co. once stood. Near the intersection of Jefferson Street.
No outbuildings.

T. Significance

Vacant front lot on 1939 Sanborn Map. Rear alley dwelling (marked 119-1/2 for most years on the Sanborn Map) faced front, but was set at the rear alley.

2.X Further Description

One story. Open gable house, substantially altered. Rectangular plan. Rock-faced course limestone foundation; asbestos shingle and concrete block walls. Gable (asphalt shingle) roof. Larger, modern concrete block section with five bay west elevation symmetrical with 1/1 double hung sash; lug sills. Exposed basement this side with windows placed under those on the first story. East elevation not visible due to adjacent modern building. Rear gable roof wing is part of the historic residence; limestone foundation here. Brick chimney in rear reentrant angle between concrete block and narrower asbestos clad rear wing. Single 6/6 window faces west from rear gable (historic house section); modern pedestrian door rear/south with sloped loading dock from alley. The north of the building is not visible.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Located on rear unnamed alley to the south of West Dunklin Street, between Washington and Jefferson Streets. No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Henry and Katherine Schuman, worked as a painter
 1915 City Directory: Mrs. Katherine Schuman, worked Cloverleaf Overall Manufacturer at 100 Lafayette
 1925 City Directory: Henry Matthews, "trouble man" for the telephone
 1935 City Directory: Cleve Burgess

Appears to be same house shown as 119-1/2 as far back as the 1892 Sanborn Map. Set at rear alley, but nothing between house and West Dunklin Street. An adjacent 1-1/2 story carriage barn is shown to the west of the house on the 1892 and 1898 Sanborn Maps. The 1923 indicates the carriage barn was no longer extant. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows the same house listed previously listed as 119-1/2 also with a 115 address. The city directories had been listing the property as "115 rear" since at least 1908. (The 119-1/2 address really does not make since, with 119-117 adjacent to the west; 115 should be correct.) Porch faced West Dunklin Street. One story wing at west end toward rear. One story narrow outbuilding on narrow lot. (Only the rear-most bay of the current building appears to remain from this house.)

The location of the original/historic house on this lot's rise would have given the occupants quite a nice view of the city's downtown. The large front setback from Dunklin would have set this albeit simple house apart from the larger residences which once occupied this block.

2.X Further Description

2 stories with attic; one story front addition. Historic residence altered for commercial/residential rental use. No style or vernacular type. Irregular plan. Foundation of house rock-faced limestone; concrete addition foundation. Brick walls (painted) and Permastone with concrete block. Steeply pitched hip (asphalt shingle and some slate) roof on historic house core; tile roof cresting. Flat (composition) roof on modern addition. Modern one story commercial front addition dominated with pairs of huge storefront sash, each with a transom, on either side of the central entrance with "sidelights" and transom. The roof is outlined with a modern iron open rail to create a deck for an apparent second story apartment in the historic house. Modern door left bay with another door right bay, where windows would have been. Exterior metal staircase goes east/west to gable roof dormer with door and sidelights to yet another apartment. House with brick heavily painted white. Two story gable pavilion, cut-away, visible on west elevation's second story. Double rowlock segmental brick arches. Cut-off interior end chimney on front slope of west gable pavilion. West elevation not visible; nearly attached to building to west. East elevation of modern addition visible with concrete block side walls. Exterior staircase to access rooftop and apartment. Rear elevation with two story concrete block addition. Some slate remains on rear roof and back of side gable of house.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Among the commercial node of West-East Dunklin Street. The modern Apple Market is across the street, where the Capitol Brewing Co. once stood.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Martin and Mollie Gipfert, barber at 119 E. High St.

1915 City Directory: Martin Gipfert, proprietor of Sanitary Barber Shop at 119 E. High St.
125a: Henry J. and Myrtle Horner, carpenter

1925 City Directory: John and Lulu Adams; Walter and Stella Adams, brakeman

1935 City Directory: Aubrey B. Robertson

Appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map with a wrap-around porch on the northwest corner, including a corner curved out section. The 1923 Sanborn indicates the house had been converted to flats, as also indicated by the city directories. The 1939 Sanborn Map indicates the house had been returned to single family use; this, too, is confirmed by the city directories.

2.X Further Description

2 stories with attic. Dutch Colonial Revival, altered. Built as a duplex, with two original garages squeezed onto the small lot (one attached to the west; the other barely separate to the north of the rear.) Converted to office use. Four bay symmetrical facade; rectangular plan. Poured concrete foundation; brick walls (unpainted). 1/1 double hung sash with stone lug sills on brick section. Facade first story with soldier course flat arches. Gambrel roof altered to gable (asphalt shingle) roof. Left bay with one story side gable wing, slightly recessed from facade plane; infilled front with artificial siding and pair 1/1; originally an attached garage. Main section with three bays. Middle with two separate tinted modern glass doors with continuous soldier flat arch over both. End bays with 1/1 (6/6 snap-in muntins) paired on either side. Upper story of vinyl siding with slight build-out of brick gambrel section. Paired windows in end bays; blind center with large sign panel attached. Grade drops on west elevation with basement fully exposed. Exterior end chimney west framed by attic vents; flat arches of header brick. East elevation exposed to Washington Street. Central exterior end chimney cropped below roof; round arched attic vents with header arches frame the chimney at the attic level. Blind rear/north second story on gable addition to gambrel. Adorable single car garage with end piers on either side of pent roof; tile coping; attached to rear at end of east elevation.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Shallow front setback from city sidewalk. Historic residences to the west, with several also having been converted for office used. North/rear garage attached, setback only about 4' to house on Washington Street.

T. Significance

1935 City Directory: 200--Alva M. Briggs; 202--Mark L. Brooks

A long rectangular building appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map, and the 1923 Sanborn as a duplex, but the duplex with garages shown on the 1939 Sanborn appears to be different.

2.X Further Description

2 stories with attic. Queen Anne style. Irregular plan, four bay asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick walls (unpainted). Gabled hip (asphalt shingle) roof. 1/1 double hung sash with soldier course segmental brick arches, and bulls eye and incised window heads on front-most facade; other front facing facade and side elevation windows with double rowlock segmental brick arches. Rock-faced stone lug sills. Hip roof, L-plan porch with at grade poured concrete deck, turned wood posts, curved side brackets at each post, molded cornice. A modern cross brace open iron rail has been added to the porch. Two entrances left in this pavilion with c. 1930 four-light doors. The right/east of these doors appears to have a concrete rather than limestone threshold, indicating a later addition. Wide window right. Second story with single window over far left entrance: wide window over same below. Drops off segmental arches with shoulders to a continuous beltcourse of a different brick. Gable roof dormer right 3/4 facade front block with sawn shingles; vent with surround (a former window) and sunburst above. L-shape on east elevation with two story cut-away bay, the south window of which creates the right/east facade bay (deeply recessed); porch wraps to here. Full rear elevation one story wing c. 1930 with poured concrete foundation and Insul-brick siding.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Most of the block across the street is consumed with a modern bank and drive-through facility. Historic school building to west. Additional historic residences to the east on this block, but most/all have been converted for office use.

Historic garage (c. 1930) with poured concrete foundation, shiplap siding, gable roof; east bay overhead fiberglass door; west with multi-paneled overhead door; exposed rafter tails. Set at rear alley.

T. Significance

- 1908 City Directory: No listing
- 1915 City Directory: No 214 or 212 listing. Henry A. and Margaret Schmihausen, musician, listed at 216, perhaps this house, as some address changes did occur.
- 1925 City Directory: G. Adam Raithel
- 1935 City Directory: Wesley H. Mueller; 212-1/2: Herman F. Tuepker

Shown as 214 on the 1908 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block. Shown with current configuration. 212/216 on the 1923 Sanborn Map. Converted to flats by 1939.

		051/Cole	222 West Dunklin Street
Missouri State Historical Survey, August 18, 1970: Joseph Pope founded Pope Construction Company, built house in 1897. Pope built first sidewalk in Jefferson City. In 1917 he carried out the first state contract for an improved road between the Osage River Bridge and Centertown. Later he was a director of the Central Missouri Trust Company. Porch built about 1920 to replace original wood porch. Pope is listed in Missouri, Mother of the West, Vol. III (Chicago: American Historical Society, Inc., 1930), p.74. He was a pioneer concrete builder and constructed some of the first sidewalks, street and highways in Missouri. He built the first macadam street in Jefferson City and was probably responsible for 75% of all sidewalks and 90% of all streets in the city.

2.X Further Description

2-1/2 stories. Classical Revival influence. Irregular plan. Five bay symmetrical facade. Rock-faced coursed limestone foundation; smooth stone watertable. Brick walls, unpainted. Complex hip (asphalt shingle) roof. 1/1 double hung sash; stone lintels on first story; second story at cornice line. First story windows with stone lug sills; second story with continuous stone sill. Central gable 2-1/2 story pavilion with Classical Revival influence entrance surround composed of Doric pilasters, molded architrave, plain frieze, molded cornice, and pediment with "1904" all in stone. Modern glass double doors and tall transom. Short 1/1 windows flank with random coursed limestone up to the bottom of these windows; quoins. Continuous stone flat arch extends over these windows, and is a visual extension of the entrance frieze. Second story window group with two regular size 1/1 grouped with projecting sill with stone corbels, flanked by shorter 1/1 with the same sill treatment (on line with the remainder of the second story windows and their continuous stone sill). Each of these four central windows with an eight-light radiating patterned transom united with a bold stone continuous lintel. Gable with two 1/1 windows central, also with a bold stone continuous lintel. Stone coping, end piers of stone with ball finials. Wide wood molded cornice band on either side of gable extends on side wings and wraps elevation. Windows in set of three on first and second story with single windows framing the gable pavilion, each with a transom. East with four boarded double rowlock basement sash boarded. No watertable this side. Sets of four 1/1 with same stone trim as on facade on both stories. Single gable dormers of brick on side elevations, smaller simplified version of the gable front pavilion. Longer west elevation faces Broadway Street. Rear elevation with triple stepped plan. Brick chimney rear slope of front hip section.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

At the northeast corner of Broadway and West Dunklin streets. Historic residences to the east on the remainder of the block. Most of the block across the street is consumed with a modern bank and drive-through facility. No outbuildings.

T. Significance

Shown on the 1908 Sanborn Map without the long west elevation. The 1923 Sanborn Map shows the west elevation extension. The same configuration is shown on the 1939 Sanborn.

According to The House on Hobo Hill, Broadway School cost $13,229 to build, with class beginning in the fall of 1904. The school was then six rooms. The school was designed by noted local architects Miller and Opel and the first and second floor plans were used for Washington, Fairview and West End Schools, all built in 1903-04. The west wing, including four classrooms on the first and second stories and four more in the basement, was constructed at a cost of $7,282 around 1920. In August 1955, the property was sold to the Carpenters Union for $32,000. A historic photograph reveals that with the exception of the front doors and three chimneys missing, the school building remains much the same as in was in 1904, c. 1920.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. No style or vernacular type. Rectangular plan. Brick foundation. Steel siding. "Truncated" gable (corrugated metal) roof. Mixed 2/2, 3 vertical/1, and 1/1 double hung sash with narrow plain surrounds. Entrance faces south into dead end half block extension of Elm Street at ravine near Rex Whitton Expressway. Central enclosed porch with shed roof. Two windows face front from enclosed porch. Low-pitched gable roof dormer with two windows over entrance. Interior end chimney east. North elevation with shed roof dormer; single window.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

House difficult to view; set into valley and inaccessible from any rear alley. Front windows would face onto Elm Street (literally), as the house is setback well below the street grade. Small trailer near front of house.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Luther and Mary Sapp, teamster

1915 City Directory: Alexander and Kittie Findley, fireman, Missouri Pacific; Luther and Mary Sapp were listed for 124 Elm, perhaps indicating a change in addresses, not a move; Luther then worked at Capitol Brewing Co.

1925 City Directory: Luther Sapp and Christian R. Young listed for 122; Mrs. Agnes Bruto listed for 124.

1935 City Directory: Walter Workman

Shown with a square plan on the 1923 Sanborn Map, the first year to show this block. The house is shown as 1-1/2 stories with a full-elevation rear porch; it is sited slightly at an angle to West Elm Street.

2.X. Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Gabled Ell type. L-plan, 3 bay facade. Parged foundation, brick (heavily painted) walls. Cross gable (asphalt shingle) roof. Right/east bay gable front pavilion with single 1/1 on first story and round arched 1/1 in gable; overhanging boxed eaves with rake boards. Left/west re-entrant bay with corner entry and 3-vertical/1 window to west; main gable roof continues over porch area with low poured concrete deck, wood slat open rail, turned wood posts, plain frieze and spindlework cornice pieces. Windows as 1/1, 2/2, 3-vertical/1 double hung with double rowlock segmental and round arched openings. West elevation exposed as lot drops away to northeast; pitch of earlier side gable lowered, as evidenced by some artificial siding infill on the west. Rear shed roof asbestos shingled addition with fully exposed basement with window on first story. Rear with exterior stairs to raised first story; rear hip behind front gable.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Gravel drive off gravel dead end of Elm Street for only this house and 122; overlooks Whitton Expressway to north; grade drops off dramatically to northeast.
No outbuildings.

2.X. Further Description

2 stories. Second Empire influence style. Single family residence converted to three apartments. Square plan, 4 bay facade. Limestone & parged foundation, artificially sided and asbestos shingled walls. Mansard-style roof. Modern door entries in center two bays with flanking windows; center two bay flat roof portico with fluted Doric columns on low poured concrete deck, plain wide wood frieze; second story set in Mansard-style angled "roof" with two low gable roof dormers with 1/1 windows. Windows as 1/1 and 2-horizontal/2-horizontal double hung. Originally detailing obscured by artificial siding and upper story alterations. 1-story gable roof wing off rear toward east.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Rear alley off Broadway

Historic brick gable roof outbuilding, single car garage in size, but apparently not functioning as a garage.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: F.X. and Anna Schell, nursery stock
 1915 City Directory: Frank X. and Anna Schell, restaurant
 1925 City Directory: Jacob and Martha Seidel, laborer
 1935 City Directory: Otto Nieman, Quality Cleaners

Shown with Mansard roof on the 1908 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block. A full-facade porch is shown. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows a rear porch added to the east; an outbuilding was near the rear of the house and a large (tile) garage was at the rear alley then.

2.X Further Description

2-1/2 stories. Former German vernacular church altered historically to English Revival two-flat c. 1927. Rectangular plan. Limestone foundation, parged in parts. Stucco walls. 4 vertical/1 double hung sash with stone sills, occurring most always in pairs. Side gable (asphalt shingle) roof. Central double entrance with 3-light doors grouped with single stretcher "piers" and header top with patterned stucco blind transom and soldier segmental arch under curved entrance hood with curved open bed; asphalt shingle "finial." Three concrete stairs with brick cheek pieces and limestone caps. Three bay facade with paired windows in end bays, both stories; short pair above entrance bay. Belcast gable roof dormer central facade with cornice returns. Window pair with 8-light fixed sash or casements framing the pair. Side cornice returns on main gable. Narrower paired elevation windows. Exposed basement west/Broadway with double car basement garage, both with historic three-part, four-light garage doors. Flared pent roof over garage bay. Poured concrete exterior stairs lead to raised first story this elevation. (The side gable on the west is the original church entrance, as seen in a historic photograph.) Shed 3/4 rear enclosed sleeping porch with sets of three 4 vertical/1 side/west and rear/north. East interior end chimney. East elevation windows in singles, with smaller upper half story windows as on the west. Excellent condition; exceptionally well-maintained.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

At the northeast corner of Elm and Broadway Streets. Both sides of this block on Elm Street are residential, and most all are historic. No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: listed as 517 Broadway, German Methodist Episcopal Church
 1915 City Directory: same
 1925 City Directory: vacant, still with 517 Broadway address
 1935 City Directory: Walter A. Schroeder, barber

The 1908 Sanborn Map is the earliest to show this section of the block. This building is labeled "German Methodist Episcopal Church." The 1923 Sanborn Map shows the building labeled "not used." By the 1939 Sanborn Map, the current duplexes are shown as 224-226 and a rear wing/sleeping porch was added to the former Church building; a basement garage is indicated. The German Methodist Episcopal congregation was incorporated in 1873, 22 years after its founding. The congregation was actually organized in 1846 with members throughout Osage, Cole, Moniteau, and Cooper counties, but was not in Jefferson City until 1851. The congregation's activities in Jefferson City were abandoned for a while, and did not resume until 1864, with this church being constructed ten years later in 1874. The historic church faced Broadway, and was an oversized one story gable front building constructed of brick. The congregation had commissioned a new Opel-designed building by 1900, leaving the Broadway building. (See accompanying survey report for additional information and references.) According to the current occupant, the building was used as a garage in the 'teens, before being converted by the Schroeder family into duplexes.

Recommended for potential local landmark designation. The building is historically significant within the development of this German neighborhood. While the Church is really only detectable with prior knowledge, the duplex "renovation" itself is now significant. The house remains occupied by a first generation German American whose parents settled in "Munichberg;" it has been in the Walter Schroeder family since the late 1920s.

2.X Further Description

Two stories. Moderns Coca-Cola prototype building. Rectangular plan with additions. Six bay asymmetrical facade. Multi-light industrial sash with awning paneled, concrete continuous sills; some altered. Concrete foundation is limestone faced in the front; yellow brick walls. Projecting limestone watertable. Shed (composition asphalt) roof. Entrance off-center to right/north set in two story limestone shallow pavilion with battlement-like effect at parapet. Pavilion with curved walls to door with sidelights and multi-light transom. Flat metal canopy above with inset panel above reading "Erected in memory of Jacob Moerschel and Honor to Ernst C. Moerschel A.D. 1941." Triple inset panel frame with multi-light industrial sash above in beveled frame within two story entrance pavilion. First story (and second story) with raised stretcher courses (five) with sash topped by soldier course framed with additional raised stretcher course on top/bottom. Right/north with three sash symmetrically placed on both stories. Those windows on second story original; first story infilled with wood and smaller 1/1 double hung sash, but importantly the openings are evident. Longer section to left/south of entrance pavilion with four original second story windows intact. The bays below have been altered from four to two, with double storefront sash with blocked transom space with inset vent over the one on the right window (just left of the entrance pavilion). Between the two stories on this section is an inset limestone Coca-Cola panel with bottles at each end detailed even with "Trademark Registered in Contents 6 oz." (see photo 6-28) with fanned Deco background behind the bottle. The central section of the panel reads "Coca-Cola" in the trademark Coke script. The facade treatment continues on the south elevation with single storefront sash and an industrial sash above. A recessed wing of similar brick is to the south, presumed to be a later addition, but well done. Continuous soldier courses from first story of main building; corrugated metal "cornice." Large garage openings and pedestrian door face front/ east. North elevation with sign panel in the first (south) bay as on the front, for the benefit of the Whitton Expressway traffic. Again, the first story sash have been altered and those on the second story are intact; rear chimney. One story original rear wing flush with north elevation; some infill of fenestration, but original openings are clearly evident. Rear with two concrete block additions c. 1965 and c. 1975, not visible from Jefferson Street.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Setback from the Rex Whitton Expressway by drainage ditch/Wears Creek. Concrete driveway north accessed rear storage/warehouses. Billboard on roof aimed toward the expressway. Alley to south, off end of modern rear addition.

Long, modern metal outbuilding with ten truck bays at rear lot.

T. Significance

No city directory listings. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows a one story restaurant, free standing, to the north of the Western Bottling Works which was at 610.

The first story replacement windows are unfortunately, but repairable, alterations to this good example of the Coca-Cola Company's prototype bottling works of the early 1940s. Overall, the building retains a good degree of integrity. It is the neighborhood's only example of the Moderns style, and is a visual landmark off the Rex Whitton Expressway and the Jefferson Street entrance into the neighborhood. The building's dedication and tribute to the Moerschel Brothers, who once held ownership in this establishment, is appropriate, as their Capitol Brewing Company once occupied much of the East Dunklin Street side of this block. The only remnant of that earlier era is the companion Western Bottling Works at 610 (and 608).

2.X Further Description

One story. No style or vernacular building type. Rectangular plan, single storefront facade. Limestone foundation; wire-cut brick facade and Insul-brick sided north elevation. Flat (composition asphalt) roof. Left recessed door accessed by two stairs. Two storefront sash to the right, with a third smaller storefront sash angled toward the door; plain parapet. 6-light transom above two front storefront sash. Parapet panel identified by header brick. Stepped parapet with concrete coping; header course at top is a visual continuation of the header beltcourse at the second story sill level of the adjacent 610 Jefferson Street. A modern wood sign had been attached over much of the parapet. Small section of limestone foundation visible on north elevation. Insul-brick clad walls painted white. Smooth wood watertable; plain wood cornice. Two 2 vertical/2 vertical double hung sash.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Coca-Cola complex to right/north with a driveway and recessed side garage adjacent to the rear of the north elevation of this building. An addition on the Coca-Cola building wraps this rear of this building and 610 over to the side alley.

No outbuildings.

2.X Further Description

2 stories. Late nineteenth century commercial building with rectangular plan, two bay facade. Foundation not visible; brick walls (unpainted). Shed (composition asphalt) roof. Facade brick appears to be a c. 1925 brick applied to the older building; mottled wire-cut brick. Single storefront with deeply recessed left door, angled storefront sash, and two storefront sash, all with a blind transom; plain bulkhead. Sign panel attached to brick above. Right/north end bay with multi-light staircase door. Second story with three symmetrical bays: central multi-light French door pair with inset iron balconet concealed with modern storm/screen (see photo 2-26). 3 vertical/1 and 1/1 windows in end bays with stone lug sills and a continuous header beltcourse at the sill level. All three bays with soldier course segmental brick arches, plain window heads. Parapet with two header panels framed by yellow wire-cut cross patterns at center and ends. South elevation reveals earlier building with different brick, with some 2 vertical/2 vertical double hung sash; soldier course segmental brick arches. Stepped parapet, side elevation. Two story single bay added with concrete block (painted metallic silver) first story: frame second story (second story porch or apartment entrance, with exterior lot stairs from the rear); exposed rafter tails. Garage door (with flat roof canopy) opens to alley; pedestrian door and mixed fenestration on south elevation. North elevation with two low-pitched gable porch-like features off the second story onto 608's roof (appear to be c. 1925). Insul-brick clad; storm windows enclose.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

No front setback. 608 Jefferson is attached to the north, but appears to be a separate building as indicated by the brickwork. The brickwork, however, also reveals the header beltcourse at the sill level continues from this building across 608 as parapet decoration. Coca-Cola's second and third additions wrap these two buildings at the rear over to the side alley.

No outbuildings.

1908 City Directory: Western Steam Bottling Works
 1915 City Directory: Western Steam Bottling Works, Albert W. Happy, proprietor; soda and mineral water
 1925 City Directory: Household Appliance Company
 1935 City Directory: Otto T. Holtsnider

The 1885 Sanborn Map shows this lot as being vacant; that year's map shows only the block with Capitol Brewing Company in this neighborhood. The 1892 Sanborn Map shows "Western Bottling Works" with a one story rear wing; a 1-1/2 story carriage barn was at 608-1/2 at the rear. The 1898 Sanborn Map shows much the same complex; a pump attachment was added to the end of the building. The 1908 Sanborn indicates "F. Rosen. Western Steam Bottling Works. (pop factory)." The building had been extended more, including a washroom and a north wing (which is now Tyler's Lock and Key at 608). An outbuilding previous noted as "carriage painting" was indicated as storage for this complex at the rear. The 1923 Sanborn indicates that the large Moerschel Brewery complex on the West Dunklin Street side of this block had been changed to "Moerschel Produce," and the use of the bottling works was not clear. "Tire rep." is indicated on the 1939 Sanborn; the second story wings/porches over the north wing are shown; a two story wing/porch was added south (as is still extant).

The 1908 Sanborn Map shows this building as 622-624 Jefferson with #622 labeled a wagon shop. The 1923 map is labeled druggist (#624) and a store (#622). The 1939 map shows a bank (#630/624) and a store (#626/622).

According to the Jefferson City Souvenir, Henry Schwartz had a shop at the corner of Jefferson & Dunklin streets. The first floor was used for blacksmith and shoeing shop, wagon manufacturing and repair; the second floor was used as a painting shop. A picture of his building is included (page 19) and it appears to be the same building, although the facades were modified at a later date, c. 1930.

Ecco Lounge Menu: In 1838 the land on the corner of Jefferson and Dunklin was purchased for $32.00; a building was built in 1858 and 1860 as a beer saloon. In 1897 Nick Kielman and Ben Humbrook took charge of the Farmers Home Hotel, recognized as a headquarter for transients. The hotel contained nineteen well-furnished rooms with a large and elegant buffet and provided an adjacent wagon yard for use of its patrons.

The 1908 Sanborn Map shows #701 labeled "Drugs" and #703 labeled "Saloon"; #701-703 is shown as the Farmers' Home. The 1923 map is labeled Farmers Home; a bank is on the corner. Stores are located at both addresses in 1939.

The Jefferson City Souvenir mentions the Farmers Home Hotel (p.32) at 703 Jefferson Street as owned by Nick Kielman.

The History of Jefferson City has an entry (p. 536) for Peter J. Schell who was appointed deputy county collector in 1904; in 1908 he was elected county treasurer of Cole County. He also started a music store in 1909 in partnership with Leo Holtschneider. The company was acquired by The Schell & Sons Trading Co. of St. Thomas which established the Schell Music Co. with Peter Schell as manager.

2.X Further Description

1 story. No style or vernacular type. Rectangular plan. Substantial elevation drop between the north and south ends of the building, with the north end entrances being at grade and those on the south requiring six stairs. Rock-faced coursed limestone foundation; brick (painted gray) walls. Shed (composition) roof. Mixed fenestration; many fenestration changes (sized altered and infilled). Decorative parapet intact, patterned with double corbels between spans of six dentils on raised stretcher course brick. Metal coping added above. Current facade configuration in three sections. Left/south section with two modern doors (adjacent), angled modern storefront sash, and four modern storefront sash at facade plane. Twelve-light industrial awning sash and recessed entrance in middle section. A door at this location appears to be original as indicated by brick infill. Between the second and third sections, a segmental arch is evident near a wall vent. End bay with the same industrial sash and an entrance with double doors accessed by carpeted stairs on the city sidewalk. Industrial sash c. 1940 with header sill. South wall flush/common with another historic commercial building (710) which was part of the Tanner Machine Shop also. Retaining wall added to north elevation's exposed basement level, with upper section having been stuccoed; blind except for three windows toward rear/west; stepped parapet. Rear elevation with various windows and double wood swing doors.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Setback approximately 3' from the city sidewalk, with the setback paved with concrete angled down from the building toward the walk. Rear with gravel parking area. A modern gas station (Citgo) is adjacent to the north, at the southwest corner of West Dunklin Street.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: No listing
 1915 City Directory: Listed with 710: Tanner Brothers, machine shop
 1925 City Directory: Listed with 710: Tanner Brothers Machine Shop and Garage
 1935 City Directory: Same

The 1892 Sanborn Map shows 708 as a one story machine shop for T. Turner's machine shop and foundry. The complex occupied this section of the block. The 1898 Sanborn Map shows the same complex and notations. The 1908 Sanborn Map shows the complex had grown to 706, a section labeled "Gasol. Eng." (A current look about 18" right/north of the current Old Munichberg Antique Mall sign shows the line in the brick for the 706 extension.) The 1923 Sanborn Map shows a rear wing on the earlier 706 front wing. The 1939 Sanborn Map still carries the machine shop label for the complex, but garages had been added at 704, yet another extension.

The Tanner family was one of the early Munichburg families. The Jacob Tanner Dry Goods & Grocery stood at the end of this block at 700-702 Jefferson Street, at the southwest corner of West Dunklin. The site is now occupied by a modern Citgo gas station. That store was shown still shown on the 1939 Sanborn Map, but was labeled "undetermined" use. Jacob Tanner was the immigrant (Germany) patriarch of one branch of the Tanner family in Jefferson City. (His brother, Charles, also settled in Jefferson City.) Jacob and his wife Henrietta Kastner (of Bavaria) had seven children, most of whom continued in business in Munichburg.

The 1908 Sanborn Map labels this 2-story building as a foundry and it is part of the Theo. Tanner Foundry & Machine Shop complex which stretched from 706-710. The 1923 map is similar, except that the machine shop/garage portion has been remodeled; the foundry label was dropped. The 1939 map shows this structure as a store with the machine shop next door.

The Jefferson City Souvenir has an entry for Tanner's Garage (p. 24). "The oldest and most prosperous and largely patronized garages and automobile livery establishments in Jefferson City is that located at 710 Jefferson street. This business was established in 1881 and has grown and widened under the rapid progress and development of the city. This garage has long stood for honesty and integrity in business and reliability and merit in the execution of work."

2.X Further Description

1 story with exposed basement north. No style or vernacular type. Rectangular plan, two bay altered facade. Rock-faced random limestone foundation; vertical wood sided and brick walls. Shed (composition asphalt) roof. Facade with basement exposed more toward north end; not at all on south end. Fixed sash left with boarded fenestration to its right/south. Garage door opening far right, with floor raised off grade (door for loading, not drive-in). Exposed rafter tails front. South wall attached to 711 Jefferson Street. North elevation with billboard set in close proximity to raised first story hampering clear view. However, toward the rear, the rear wall appears to have a gap from the north wall, almost as if the north wall was inset in a formerly open space. Basement level with 2 pedestrian doors, simple wood frames. Rear elevation with two boarded openings: one is a doorway to the basement level and the other also appears to have been a doorway on the first story (over the exposed basement), now inaccessible; no indication of porch or exterior stairs. Rear wings were once on this and 711, with the door likely functioning with another section.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Part of a block-long commercial node which extends south off the main Dunklin Street commercial corridor. Wide area of parking lots at the rear; gravel. No outbuildings.

T. Significance

No city directory listings. This building is shown on the earliest Sanborn Map which shows this block--1892. It was then, together with 711, part of a large saddlery-related enterprise which included a feed yard and large "hitch shed." Possibly, the use is related to one of the East Dunklin Street (100 block) businesses, which included the Louis Sachs saddlery company. The lots on the south side of the alley were not developed. Rear sections were removed from this and 711, leaving the remaining buildings which were used as a beer warehouse in the late 1930s. See also 711 Jefferson Street.

2.X Further Description

1 story. No style or vernacular type. Rectangular plan, three bay asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick (painted maroon) walls. Shed (composition asphalt) roof; side with stepped parapet. Facade fenestration altered, date unknown. Current configuration with left bay door, middle bay with recessed infill with clapboard and two 1/1 double hung sash; right bay with single 1/1 window. Soldier course segmental brick arches well above each opening or infill with several courses of brick before a header flat arch over extant openings. Plain parapet. Heavily painted facade. South elevation with change in brick toward front. Major crack c. 3-1/2' from facade going from parapet to window top. Some parging on the front portion of this elevation. Multi-stepped parapet. Elevation drop between south and lower north entrance; attached building/wing (709) to the north. Rear with boarded door.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Setback about 2' from city sidewalk. Side alley on south.
No outbuildings.

T. Significance

The extant building (and its 709 addressed wing to the north) appear to be two sections remaining from the warehouse shown on the 1892 Sanborn Map. The 1908 Sanborn Map shows a large feed yard and "Hitch Shed" with 709-711 indicated as outbuildings. The 1923 Sanborn Map shows the buildings labeled as garage. The 1939 Sanborn shows the two front sections as "Beer" (711) and "Warehouse" (709); these sections are the same as those consistently on the earlier Sanborn Maps.

No city directory listings are given for this building. The large feed yard which occupied this quarter section of the block may have been related to East Dunklin Street businesses.

2.X Further Description

1 story with exposed basement north. No style or vernacular type; may be a historic addition to 711 Jefferson Street: the buildings appear to be one from the rear only. Rectangular plan, two bay altered facade. Rock-faced random limestone foundation; vertical wood sided and brick walls. Shed (composition asphalt) roof. Facade with basement exposed more toward north end; not at all on south end. Fixed sash left with boarded fenestration to its right/south. Garage door opening far right, with floor raised off grade (door for loading, not drive-in). Exposed rafter tails front. South wall attached to 711 Jefferson Street. North elevation with billboard set in close proximity to raised first story hampering clear view. However, toward the rear, the rear wall appears to have a gap from the north wall, almost as if the north wall was inset in a formerly open space. Basement level with 2 pedestrian doors, simple wood frames. Rear elevation with two boarded openings; one is a doorway to the basement level and the other also appears to have been a doorway on the first story (over the exposed basement), now inaccessible; no indication of porch or exterior stairs.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Part of a block-long commercial node which extends south off the main Dunklin Street commercial corridor. Wide area of parking lots at the rear; gravel. No outbuildings.

T. Significance

The 1939 Sanborn Map indicates this lot was not developed.

2.X Further Description

2 stories. Corner Entrance type. Rectangular plan. 4 bay asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick (unpainted) walls have been sandblasted and improperly re-pointed. Flat (asphalt/composition) roof. 1/1 double hung sash with double rowlock segmental brick arches; plain window heads and stone lug sills. Elevated terrace full elevation west and north with limestone base, poured concrete deck, double iron open rail; corner access at northwest corner. Main building access at northwest corner with double door entrance at cut-away corner. Curved swan-neck luminaire extends out from iron column at open corner. Jefferson Street/west facade with limestone threshold, recessed inset of 4-light large fixed sash, scalloped and paneled bulkhead, plain window head and double rowlock segmental brick arch. Panel inset historic, but threshold would seem to indicate former doorway. Pedestrian door with transom in middle. South end bay of west elevation with storefront flush to facade: double large light doors with beveled panels/transom flanked by large four-light fixed sash with double beveled paneled bulkheads, iron lintel with 5 florettes. Three second story bays this side, separated by extensive brickwork of raised panels extending to bottom of second story, sawtooth courses, and four courses corbels. South elevation is two bays on first story, 3 on second. Interior end chimneys. Blind first story north with four bay second story with iron balcony on two middle bays. Brickwork continues here, as this elevation is exposed to East Ashley Street. Two interior end chimneys. Side gable Central Passage vernacular house attached to rear; see form on 102 East Ashley Street.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Located at the southeast corner of Jefferson and East Ashley streets. This and nearby blocks with historic corner commercial buildings between historic residences. East Ashley Street residential to the east behind this building.

No outbuildings

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: #805: T.J. & Mary Nilges, grocers at 801 Jefferson (no #803)
1915 City Directory: T.J. & Mary M. Nilges, grocers at 801 Jefferson
1925 City Directory: William & Mary Luecke, owner
1935 City Directory: Mrs. Mary Luecke, owner, 803-1/2: vacant

The 1908 Sanborn Map does not cover this area. This 2-story irregular plan brick dwelling is shown on the 1923 map, addressed as #803. The 1939 map shows the front corner porch and a rear 2-story porch.

According to the 1915 City Directory, Theodore Nilges was a grocer with his store at 801 Jefferson Street. He was also president of the Cole County Bank at 701 Jefferson Street.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Open gable vernacular building type. Rectangular plan, 3 bay asymmetrical facade. Rock-faced limestone foundation; brick (unpainted) walls. Asbestos shingle upper half story. Gable front (asphalt shingle) roof with front cornice returns. Left facade bay 1/1 window's stone lintel cut-off by porch roof. Door with transom off-center to right/north. Replacement fixed sash (small, raised rectangular) with double rowlock segmental brick arch, rock-faced stone sill in right end bay. Flat roof nearly full-facade (3/4) porch with full-height Doric posts, raised wood deck, wood stairs, modern iron open rail; artificially sided cornice. Central second story bay window with replacement materials including 1/1 double hung sash; entire bay may be modern; the asbestos shingle has been disrupted. North and south elevation gable roof dormers with two windows; asbestos shingle "cornice" both sides. Two bay south elevation. Rear frame shed roof wing flush with south elevation. Double rowlock basement windows.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

House set high on steep lot rise. Limestone retaining wall recessed c. 4' from front city sidewalk. Limestone cheek pieces up thirteen exterior lot stairs; iron pipe rail.

House(s) to north recently demolished. One other house of similar age remains adjacent to the south, but most of this block (on both sides of the street) is occupied with historic commercial buildings.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Mrs. Elizabeth M. Courtwright, widow of Martin

1915 City Directory: Same

1925 City Directory: Same

1935 City Directory: Edgar Maxey

Appears on the 1923 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block. The house is shown with a full-facade porch. Shared lot at that time with 802; a garage with two one story wings was on the rear alley of the double lot. The house is unchanged on the 1939 Sanborn Map, but it shared a lot at that time with 808; a single car garage was at the northwest corner of the different lot.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Queen Anne influence. L-plan facade. Rock-faced course limestone foundation; brick (unpainted) walls. Gabled truncated hip (asphalt shingle) roof; aluminum soffits. 1/1 double hung sash with double rowlock segmental brick arches, plain window heads, and rock-faced stone lug sills. Cut-away left/south gable front wing with 1/1 window and entrance (replacement door, blocked transom) in recessed section to right/north. Flat roof reentrant angle (half) porch with raised wood deck on brick support piers, tall modern lattice base, tapered Doric posts on recessed paneled pedestals, modern iron open rail, plain cornice. Petite 1/1 window in upper story sawn shingle gable front. Basement fully exposed left facade and south elevation. Modern pedestrian door basement level of south elevation, with two rectangular basement fenestration openings boarded; a third is on the angle of the cut-away bay front. Two bay first story south elevation, with front half blind. Gable dormer with single 1/1 centered above two windows. Modern shed roof open porch added to rear elevation. Rear gable roof dormer with single 1/1 window. North elevation also with gable roof dormer.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

This block, both sides of the street, mostly early twentieth century commercial node. The and the adjacent house to the north are the only remaining residences (both late nineteenth century) on this side of the block. Recently, other historic residences have been demolished to the north to West Ashley Street. Alley to south with feed store on other side. Modern poured concrete retaining wall south. Random limestone north side of front lot and front with poured concrete exterior lot stairs and cheek pieces aligned with entrance bay of house.
No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Henry F. and Catherine Niles, carpenter; T. G. and Mary Nilges were at 805 and his store was at 801; relation unclear
 1915 City Directory: Same (in both cases)
 1925 City Directory: Caleb L. and Anna Bandy
 1935 City Directory: Arth P. Wetzel

2.X Further Description

Two stories, with one story sections on either side. No style or vernacular building type. Rectangular plan. Foundation not visible; asbestos shingle (above first story windows) and stucco walls. Hip (asphalt shingle) roof with exposed rafter tails. One story side shed, false front south section with tall window pair; left/south window boarded; no front door this section. South elevation of this section with mixed fenestration and a pedestrian door toward the rear. Two story section on north with middle slider sash pair; door with boarded transom flanked by 1/1 windows; a single 1/1 is in the center of the second story facade. Third or southernmost section also with false front/side shed. The taller center hip block has five bays of 2 vertical/2 vertical double hung sash which are just above the side shed wings on either side elevation.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Set within 3' - 4' of 814 to the north. Shallow setback entirely paved as to affect parking space, although not a full car length deep.

Historic false front (gable) garage off West Atchison with board and batten siding; modern overhead door; hinges of original swing doors extant.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: No listing

1915 City Directory: No listing

1925 City Directory: Fred J. DeLong, owner/blacksmith and welding shop; lived with Mary at 108 W. Atchison Street, just around the corner to the west.

1935 City Directory: Blacksmith shop along with Ira Henley, auto repair

Appears as 818 (and 100 West Atchison Street), the first to show this block. Shown with central and right/north sections. DeLong's residence, 108, was at the rear lot off West Atchison Street. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows the current three wings with the central "store;" garage at rear had been added (still extant). The rear lot dwelling still existed.

2.X Further Description

2-1/2 stories. Craftsman influenced corner commercial building. Rectangular plan. Limestone (coursed with "vined" mortar) foundation; stucco (rough aggregate, pigmented gray with black rock) walls. Gable front (asphalt shingle) roof with knee braces on gable ends and dormers; sides with exposed rafter tails. Multi-vertical-light/1 double hung sash with plain surrounds. Single storefront with double large light recessed doors with panels, angled windows, and large fixed single storefront sash on either side. Tall storefront transom area boarded. Shallow shed roof canopy with knee braces. Three sets of three 4 vertical/1 windows above with pair 6 vertical/1 in upper half story. North elevation with multi-light door with transom and multi-light storm door. Side entrance gable roof porch with raised wood deck accessed by wood replacement stairs, wood open rail, stucco pedestals with tapered Doric posts, knee braces and plain cornice. Gable with stucco and wood "half-timber" treatment; rake boards with extending pointed ends. Three fixed sash on first story set high; rock-faced stone lug sills; windows boarded or with air conditioner inserted. Basement windows exposed this side, with single rowlock segmental arches. Mixed second story windows with rear/easternmost bay infilled with a smaller historic 3 vertical/1 window and asbestos shingle where an open second story porch was. Various multi-light windows in singles, pairs, and sets. Two gable roof dormers with paired 6 vertical/1 windows. Interior end chimneys just left of each. Rear with exposed basement with solid replacement door and single window. Blocked transom left/south bay; 1/1 window to right of each door. Full elevation porch was originally open, but is now enclosed on the right two bays as east bay on second story of north elevation. Open bay with beadboard solid rail. Pair of windows second story as on facade. South elevation with exposed brick on first story; three fixed sash as on north elevation with a 6 vertical/1 window toward the rear. Second story mostly paired windows. Two gable roof dormers as other side, but no chimneys.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

At the southeast corner of East Atchison Street. Another historic corner commercial building is one block north at 801 Jefferson Street, southeast corner East Ashley Street.
No outbuildings.

REFERENCE NUMBER	A. HISTORIC NAME	B. COUNTY	C. ADDRESS
	Ahrens & Graessle Store	051/Cole	901 Jefferson Street

T. Significance

- 1908 City Directory: 905 listed as Ahrens & Graessle
- 1915 City Directory: Ahrens & Graessle, groceries, hardware, dry goods; Mrs. Frances Ahrens, widow of Henry, lived next door at 909
- 1925 City Directory: Harry Ferguson, grocer; Wm. E. Meyers, harness at 903; Louis Ahrens owned/lived at 909
- 1935 City Directory: Ferguson Service Grocery Store; Harry E. Ferguson; Joseph W. Kaiser, shoe repair at 903

A very handsome corner commercial building with a high degree of integrity. Recommended for potential eligibility to the National Register of Historic Places for architectural significance, as a Craftsman influenced neighborhood corner commercial building.

Recommended for potential local landmark status.

Appears on the 1923 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block. "Store" with 100 East Atchison and 901 Jefferson Street addresses. A small middle wing (903) is labeled "store," and is setback with 905, a smaller version of 901 with a full facade porch; that wing is labeled "grocery." The 1939 Sanborn Map shows the previous 903 unmarked with an address, but still a store; the previous 905 is 903 and labeled a garage.

A turn-of-the-century publication notes that Ahrens & Graessle are the owners and successful operators of a large and up-to-date general merchandise, feed and flour store, having been in business for eleven years. Mr. John H. Ahrens, the senior member of the firm, was born in Osage County in 1870. E. H. Graessle was born in Cole County in 1865. That publication lists the address as 900 Jefferson Street; whether that was a previous location (across the street) or a typographical error is not known.

2.X Further Description

2-1/2 stories. Queen Anne influence, altered. Single family residence converted to apartments. L-plan, three bay facade. Limestone foundation; brick walls (facade brick appears more modern, perhaps a refacing); asphalt shingle dormer walls. Gabled hip (rolled asphalt) roof. 1/1 double hung sash with rock-faced stone lug sills, double rowlock segmental brick arches, and modern aluminum storm windows. Similar to 905 Jefferson Street, adjacent to the south. Facade with petite 1/1 left and entrance with large light door with transom in main hip block. Wide 1/1 window with paneled window head in gable front with same above; gable with cornice returns. Small modern entrance porch at reentrant angle with poured concrete raised stoop with small iron pole support for flat metal porch canopy; modern iron open rail. Second story facade above door has a full-height opening which appears to be a 1/1 double hung sash with a paneled bulkhead which raised as window, but as to affect a door. Hip roof dormer with asphalt shingle siding. Two 1/1 windows. Two bay symmetrical south elevation with shed two story wing extending full elevation. Hip roof dormer with interior end chimney dividing 1/1 windows. Straight run exterior wood staircase added from rear to attic, middle on south elevation. Rear with one story frame shed roof enclosed porch. Three bay north elevation with exterior end chimney; guttering cut out around and following chimney. Small 1/1 staircase landing window at front.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

North side gravel tire strip driveway to rear lot overgrown. Front lot gravel and scattered grass. Historic early 20th century single car garage with original three-part doors (6-lights each) and pedestrian door facing west; Insul-brick sided gable end.

2.X Further Description

2 stories. Queen Anne. L-plan, 2 bay facade. Limestone foundation; brick walls. Fish scale shingle gable. Gabled hip (asphalt shingle) roof. 1/1 double hung sash with rock-faced soldier brick segmental arches with drops to mid-window height rock-faced two course brick belt course on both stories of facade; rock-faced stone lug sills painted white; side elevations with double rowlock segmental brick arches. Hip roof reentrant angle (half) porch with wood deck (clad with artificial turf), brick support piers, turned post, spindled and scalloped frieze, plain cornice, iron modern open rail; brackets at posts. Left/north entrance with large light door with transom in hip block. Right/south with two story gable roof pavilion. Wide 1/1 window first story; second story with round arched window group with storms concealing exact light pattern. Gable with fish scale shingles, full cornice return, and boarded attic fenestration with pedimented dripcap. Some repointing of brick with inappropriate mortar above porch and first story of north elevation (see mid-elevation height in photograph). Bulls eye cornice; boxed gutters. Mixed height windows on north elevation, including full-size window at staircase landing. Rear two story shed roof frame wing with asbestos shingle siding; may have originally been a sleeping porch. Three bay south elevation with at least one 2 vertical/2 vertical window intact; symmetrical fenestration placement between stories.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Front lot paved for former commercial use as a scuba shop. Out-of-place, poorly conceived modern infill building with much shorter setback to the south.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Charles and Anna Trutzel, laborer
 1915 City Directory: Same, stone mason
 1925 City Directory: Same
 1935 City Directory: Mrs. Anna Trutzel

Appears on the 1923 Sanborn Map with a northeast corner two story porch. A one story outbuilding is on the southeast lot/rear corner. The same is shown on the 1939 Sanborn Map, only a side alley off East Atchison Street has been added, ending at the garage. The property to the south belonged to the Lohman Estate.

1995: Salvation Army

The 1908 and 1923 Sanborn Maps do not cover this area. The 1939 map shows this 2-story irregular plan building with its front corner porch and two auto outbuildings.

The History of Cole County has an entry (p. 287), "L.C. Lohman & Co., incorporated April 22, 1876, to carry on a general merchandise business, comprised Peter F. Ellis, Jacob Steininger and Louis C. Lohman."

The Cole County Illustrated Sketch Book and Directory of Jefferson City and Cole County (p. 227) and the Jefferson City Souvenir (p. 18) have pictures of the Lohman House before a fire burned off the attic story including two towers and elaborate dormers.

According to a January 4, 1970 article in the Sunday News and Tribune, the house was built about 1893 by L.C. Lohman, father of Ira and Louis V. Lohman. It was designed by the local architectural firm of Miller & Opel. L.C. Lohman was the son of Charles F. Lohman an early Jefferson City pioneer who established a leading mercantile business and built Lohman's Landing. L.C. Lohman bought control of the business in 1874 and moved the store to a High Street location; he also was president of Merchants' Bank. His son Ira became a prominent Jefferson City lawyer. A fire c. 1921 destroyed the top portion of the house.

The Cole County Illustrated Sketch Book and Directory of Jefferson City and Cole County has an entry (p.330) for L.C. Lohman.

The Salvation Army purchased the building in 1969.

2.X Further Description

2 stories. Second Empire style. Square plan single family residence converted for apartments. Four bay symmetrical facade. Foundation not visible; brick (heavily painted white) walls. Belcast Mansard (asphalt shingle) roof; modillions. 2 vertical/2 vertical double hung sash; those on facade (except under porch) with raised soldier course segmental brick arches with drops and shoulders; stone lug sills. Side elevation windows with soldier course segmental arches only, flush with elevation plane. Right/south reentrant angle with entrances facing side/south and front/west. Two-light elaborate wood doors; transoms blocked. Reentrant angle inset porch with raised deck, concrete or stone pedestals with post at corner on pedestal, denticulated cornice under porch, and larger denticulated cornice as main cornice. Concrete open rail with wide slat rectangular "balusters." Left/north bay with two windows. Two truncated hip roof dormers appear to have full-size single windows, but screen block a clear view; modillions. South elevation with single dormer of same detailing; interior end chimney. North elevation with two of the same roof dormers. Pedestrian door with hip roof entrance porch; simple wood posts and concrete deck. Single window in west bay, north elevation. Rear also with two hip roof dormers with modillions; single window. Chimney above southernmost dormer. Exterior end chimney with corbels begins on first story. Slight rear ell with reentrant angle porch inset; at grade tapered concrete post on concrete pedestal with cap. Door faces north.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Front/west rock-faced course limestone retaining wall setback c. 2' from front city sidewalk. Extensive mortar and parging. Exterior lot stairs. House set on steep lot rise. Side "alley" (actually Cedar Street) on north. A fair amount of use/traffic is created by an office building at 600 Monroe which has parking off Cedar. Poured concrete retaining wall along Cedar Street with exterior lot stairs at rear of side; concrete stepping "stone" to rear door. Central Dairy across Madison Street, with auxiliary parking lot to the north Cedar Street (this side). Given the building's location on the steep lot rise, the house must have an excellent view of downtown Jefferson City and the capitol.
No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1897 City Directory: Busch & Purzner Florists (Hugo Busch lived at 615 Madison)
1908 City Directory: Capitol City Greenhouses, Hugo Busch, proprietor
1915 City Directory: Capitol City Green House
1925 City Directory: Capitol City Greenhouse
1935 City Directory: Capitol City Greenhouse

The 1908 Sanborn Map shows greenhouses at the corner of Madison and E. Dunklin streets (#620); there are also greenhouses diagonally to the rear northwest. Both are labeled Hugo Busch Capitol City Greenhouses. A 2-story dwelling is located to the north of the corner greenhouse (#616), the site of the current building. The 1923 map is similar. The 1939 map shows the current greenhouse configuration with the store building at #620; the dwelling is still located to the north (#618).

The History of Jefferson City has an entry (p. 394) for Hugo Busch. In 1890 he bought out the Nagel Florists, located at Madison and Dunklin. By 1938 he had one of the largest establishments in central Missouri with eight large greenhouses, fifty thousand feet of glass and sixteen acres of ground.

Re: Southside Commercial Survey Project #29-94-90058-356
Correction to 704 Madison

Dear Mr. Gilleard:

The contractor for the above-referenced project has informed me of a correction to be made to the inventory form submitted for 704 Madison. Please include this correction with the inventory form for this property.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads 'Janice O. McMillan'. The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above the printed name and title.

Janice O. McMillan
Senior Planner

Janice,

Please note that 704 Madison should be dated "1936" rather than c. 1939. We found the exact date after the form had been submitted. Please let the state know as well.

Thanks!

A black and white photograph of a two-story commercial building. The upper story features a series of vertical, dark-colored panels. A large, light-colored sign is mounted across the middle of the building, displaying the name 'Milo H. Walz' in a cursive script and 'FURNITURE' in a bold, sans-serif font. The ground floor consists of large glass windows and doors, reflecting the street scene. In front of the building, there are several small, bare trees planted in individual concrete pits. To the left, a utility pole with multiple power lines stands near the corner. On the far left, the front of a white truck is visible. To the right, another building with a satellite dish and a car is partially visible. The sky is overcast with light clouds.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Queen Anne cottage influence. Single family house now used as a religious gift shop and book store. Irregular plan. Three bay asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick (unpainted) walls. Sawn shingle gables. Complex gabled hip (asphalt shingle) roof. Boxed gutters. Double rowlock segmentally arched basement windows. 1/1 double hung sash with rock-faced stone lug sills; tops at wood cornice. Far left/north bay with single window in side gable; recessed. Door into main/central hip roof block and wide window into gable front in front reentrant angle. Flat roof reentrant angle (half) porch; north side access. Enclosed with modern storm windows, solid wood (plywood) rail, denticulated cornice. Gable front with wide window; smaller single window in gable. Rear enclosed shed roof porch aligned with north elevation. Small double rowlock segmentally arched window faces north out of main hip block. North side gable with short and regular windows on first story; upper story as on front. South elevation with slightly different brick, perhaps reflecting that elevation being less visible (being in close proximity to the house to the south). Clapboard gable roof dormer with pair of 1/1 windows. Chimney out of dormer. Two windows on first story.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Concrete driveway at north elevation plane.
Flat metal carport from north side gable to rear lot.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Joseph and Mamie Kuehn, cigar maker
1915 City Directory: Mrs. Sophia Buerkel
1925 City Directory: Ralph and Millborn Asel, meat cutter at Hott and Asel

2.X Further Description

2 stories. Colonial Revival (Dutch influence) style. Rectangular plan, three bay symmetrical facade. Limestone foundation (rock-faced coursed) with wider stones at the top as to affect a watertable; brick (unpainted) walls. Gambrel (asphalt shingle) roof; cornice returns. 1/1 double hung sash with soldier course segmental arches and keystones on first story; stone lug sills only on second story. Recessed central entrance bay: central large light door flanked by sidelights with panels and three-light transom. Hip roof (central bay) porch with twin full-height Doric columns on limestone bases; wood deck. End bays with wide windows. Centered between the first and second bays and the second and third bays are window pairs on the second story. Attic with central single rowlock round arch 6-light window with header sill. Three bay north elevation with three equally spaced windows; four double rowlock segmentally arched basement windows. Interior end chimney. Both side elevations with gable wall dormers with returns; single windows. Rear elevation with shallow shed roof porch with raised wood deck on limestone support piers. Same three bay first story and gable wall dormer on south elevation, but no basement windows (higher elevation grade here). Two interior end chimneys.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Some railroad tie terracing north side of front lot where elevation drops. Timbers frame dead tree trunk on southwest lot corner. Side alley to south.

No outbuildings.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Gabled Ell vernacular house type, substantially altered to rectangular plan. Former single family dwelling converted to small business use. Foundation not visible. Artificially sided walls. Gable (asphalt shingle) roof. Madison Street facade without an entrance (despite the address) with three asymmetrical bays; middle short 1/1 off-center to left/north. Central hip roof dormer with single 1/1. Central air conditioning unit located this side. Former main facade faced East Atchison Street. The reentrant angle has been infilled, and is now blind with artificial siding. A small hip roof dormer with a single 1/1 window is off-center to the right/west of this side gable section. The gable front has two narrow 1/1 windows, a blind upper story, and a plain cornice; interior end apex chimney. Modern shed roof addition on south elevation (the original rear elevation, now the "front") with only an entrance. Flat metal canopy with modern iron support posts and open rail; PermaStone base.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Long set of concrete exterior lot stairs with iron pipe rail lead to original entrance off East Atchison Street, now sided over. Paved lot to south where entrance is now located.
No outbuildings. Southeast corner of Madison and East Atchison streets.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Elmore L. and Libbie Anthony, Black, teacher
 1915 City Directory: Same, but now a school principal; also Beverly and Anna Smith, porter

2.X Further Description

2 stories. No style or vernacular type; substantially altered historic single family residence converted to apartments historically. The roof line and the building shape are the only historic exterior elements which remain extant. Rectangular plan, 3 bay symmetrical facade. Foundation not visible; walls refaced with stucco with expansion joints crossing the facade and elevations. Steeply-pitched hip (asphalt shingle) roof. All windows replacement with large tinted modern fixed sash; stone sills remain on the first story only. No porch. Three bay facade with middle entrance and fixed sash with modern shutters on either side. Blind middle bay above with end bay sash as below. North elevation with only two windows toward front end; majority of elevation now blind. Slight ell in rear elevation. Modern wood exterior staircase added to added second story entrance. Most of first story rear blind except for a single sash. South elevation with slight extension.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Modern tall poured concrete retaining wall spans recessed front lot line from 905 past 907 to the south. Iron open rail on top. The setback between the city sidewalk and this retaining wall is "landscaped" with rock and minute scale shrubbery. City sidewalk replaced with modern brick red color shaped paving blocks. Modern sidewalks connect this property with 907 (to the south).
No outbuildings.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 story. No longer a style or vernacular type due to extensive alteration to former single family historic residence (converted to apartments?). L-plan rear; three bay asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation (visible only from the rear); walls now clad with modern stucco application with expansion joints crossing the facade and elevations. Gable (asphalt shingle) roof. All windows replaced with large size, tinted fixed sash; stone sills remain. Deeply recessed replacement door off-center to right/south with single sash in end bays; shutters added. Single sash in gable ends; upper story blind. Interior end chimney south, front of ridge. South with exposed basement faced with modern brick. Rear gable wing with door and window in north side. Wood modern staircase and stoop added to rear entrance. Rear of main side gable section blind.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

House set on lot rise, with yard altered as house. Small front setback from city sidewalk with grass strip and "landscaped" with rock and minute scale plantings substantially off-scale for their surroundings. Tall concrete retaining wall with iron open rail on top. Front city sidewalk replaced with modern brick red color shaped paving blocks. Modern sidewalks connect this property with 905 to the north. Asphalt driveway cuts on south cuts at rear of house to rear parking in back of 907 and properties on either side; all rear lot asphalt. Parking for adjacent (to south) funeral home building.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Louis and Carrie Sachs, harness and saddlery (at 118/120 East Dunklin)
 1915 City Directory: William E. and Mary Meyers, works at Missouri State Prison
 1925 City Directory: Same, works at harness shop at home
 1935 City Directory: Paul Lewis

Appears with rear ell on 1923 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block side. A carriage barn was at the rear lot off Poplar Street. A dwelling was at 909 Madison Street also, now a modern funeral home. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows a central front porch and an L-shaped rear porch in the rear reentrant angle. These porches may have existed earlier, but the 1923 Sanborn Map did not show porches consistently.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Bungalow. Rectangular plan, three bay asymmetrical facade. Parged foundation; asbestos shingle walls. Gable front (asphalt shingle) roof. 3 vertical/1 and 4 vertical/1 double hung sash. Entrance with large light and paneled door off-center to right/south. Older aluminum 3 vertical light storm door. Jelly jar lights on either side of door. 4 vertical/1 in end bays. Full-facade hip roof porch with low poured concrete deck, limestone random rock end piers and pedestals at entrance bay; caps painted white. Iron posts added atop pedestals; plain cornice. Secondary south side access to porch from south side driveway. Smaller 3 vertical/1 window in upper half story of facade. South elevation gable roof oriel south with single 3 vertical/1 window front and rear; paired windows toward south; exposed rafter tails. Basement entrance sheltered by oriel below with 6-light sash adjacent. Rear screened-in hip roof porch full elevation; open beneath at fully exposed basement level. Ridge chimney toward front. North elevation not visible.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Lot slopes substantially down to Poplar Street to the east. Gravel tire strip driveway to rear lot. North elevation of house not visible due to small (about 2' - 3') setback from fence and "porte cochere" of modern funeral home to the north. Vines also conceal a clear view of the north elevation. No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1925 City Directory: Ernest A. and Addie Loethen, presser

1935 City Directory: Mrs. Hallie Wootan

Appears to be different dwelling on the 1923 Sanborn Map; square plan. This house appears on the 1939 Sanborn Map with front and rear porches; basement garage. Lot through to Popular Street.

2.X Further Description

One story. Mediterranean Revival style. Four bays on street facing facades. Square plan. Poured concrete foundation; yellow brick walls. Shed (composition asphalt) roof. Multi-stepped parapet with concrete coping has double raised end piers, raised central panel, and curved southeast corner. Windows with soldier course flat arches and header lug sills. East Ashley Street/south facade with single car garage left/west with stepped parapet; stone coping; modern overhead door. Industrial sash set and large fixed sash to right of garage. Central to side parapet, but off-set between these two windows is a pre-cast stone panel which reads "Lloyds" in cursive with header panel trim. Corner inset entrance bay with recessed angled entrance. Classical Revival door surround with Doric pilasters and drip mold. Round arch doorways face each street to entrance with soldier course arches with keystones. Curved parapet over each curved doorway with blind pre-cast round inset panels with header brick surround. Monroe Street facade/each with fixed sash then two garage door opening where storefront sash or doors once were originally as indicated by soldier flat arches intact above both extant openings. "Lloyds" panel here centered above the middle garage door. Red brick north elevation with industrial sash and recessed wing with aluminum clad front/east. Tall gable shed ventilator-like feature atop roof on north side. Rear/west elevation with red brick walls; industrial sash; basement fully exposed with lower elevation.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Sidewalks lead up to the inset entrance from both streets.
No outbuildings.

OK Radiator Shop at time of survey, but building was undergoing a change in ownership (plumbing supply?).

A very nice example of the Mediterranean Revival style, retaining a good degree of integrity. Recommended for potential local landmark designation.

According to owners at time of survey (March 1995), Lloyd's brother (a silent movie actor) bought land in Hollywood around the time Lloyd built this building, perhaps accounting for the unique styling.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. No style or type. Irregular plan with L-plan facade. Three bay asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick (unpainted) and artificially sided (wide exposure white) walls. Truncated hip roof core with side and front gable (asphalt shingle) roofs. 1/1 double hung sash with double rowlock segmental brick arches and rock-faced limestone lug sills; decorative window heads. Small hip roof reentrant angle entrance porch with iron supports (except for a single Doric column at the corner) and open rail; wide plain cornice. Iron security door; transom. Remainder of reentrant angle with frame shed roof enclosure for the remainder of the facade's south; single bay deep. Right/north side gable roof pavilion with wider single window on first story; regular single window on second; cornice returns. Gable roof dormers front from side gable and south from truncated hip block, each with a single window.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Concrete driveway on south. House set on hill with exterior lot stairs. The small lot plateau is mostly consumed by the house.

No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Frank and Justine Fischer, Tailor, McCormick
 1915 City Directory: Robert Coleman, brakeman, Missouri Pacific
 1925 City Directory: George T. and Clara Clark, fireman*
 1935 City Directory: Same, locomotive engineer with Missouri Pacific

Appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block. The porch extended the entire reentrant angle, where only a small porch now exists with the shed enclosed section. The 1923 and 1939 Sanborn Maps indicate a double stepped plan to the facade, with an L-plan porch. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows a single car garage at the southwest corner, nearby to the house on the small lot.

* - Mr. Clark's job location was not specified, but the Munichberg Fire Department was located just across the street on the 100 block of West Dunklin, along with the Capitol Brewing Company.

This building appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map as a 1-1/2 story masonry structure with a small south corner front porch, a full-width 1-story rear wing, and 1-story wing with rear porch along the north side that projects out to the west. The 1923 map is similar without the northeast corner rear porch or front porch depicted. The 1939 map shows a similar 1-story rectangular plan dwelling with two 1-story wings along the north side.

2.X Further Description

2 stories. Rectangular plan. 3 bay symmetrical facade. Foundation not visible; random limestone clad walls. Gabled hip (asphalt shingle) roof. Mixed windows including 6/1 and 1/1 double hung sash, with wider windows on the facade. House converted to at least two apartments c. 1924 (as indicated by the city directories and Sanborn Maps); clad with random limestone c. 1940, with entrance pavilion added then. Triple entrances into projecting steeply-pitched shallow gable pavilion, with the gable rising to near the top of the second story. Historic three-light paneled doors. Right facade gable front with left facade shed into hip roof core; shed is a two story infill of the historic open reentrant angle. South side gable also; both gables with short, rectangular fixed sash. Rear with two story frame shed roof sleeping porch, full-elevation.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Side alley to south with parking occupying on unimproved spaces, essentially the side lot. House nearly at rear lot line. Exceptional scallop-topped fence with "arrowheads" lines entire rear lot. No outbuildings.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Raymond and Lena Franke

Appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map as an L-plan house with a reentrant angle porch south. A house (207 Cedar) shared the rear half of this lot, but the 1923 Sanborn Map indicates the lot was subdivided, leaving this house nearly at the rear lot line. The conversion to flats had occurred by the 1939 Sanborn Map, but the front reentrant angle was still shown with a porch, rather than the two story shed infill and one story gable entrance pavilion it now has.

1935 City Directory: Walter H. Jens, president of Cole Co. Monument & Tile Co.
located at 129 West Dunklin

This building appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map as a 1-1/2 story rectangular plan brick building with a center front porch and full-width rear porch. The 1923 map does not show the porches, but a frame addition has been added to the northeast rear corner. The 1939 map shows that the building has been made into a duplex with a center front porch and two rear frame additions.

The Jefferson City Souvenir has an entry (p.31) for George Bartholomaeus who was secretary of the Bureau of Mines and Mine Inspection with an office in the Central Hotel building. He had been a publisher of a Warren county newspaper.

According to the 1925 City Directory Walter Jens lived at 717 Broadway and was the owner, with Louis Stuiber, of the Cole Co. Tile & Monument Co., then at 116 East Dunklin.

2.X Further Description

One story with attic. Hall and Parlor. Rectangular plan altered historically to an L-plan. Three bay facade. Limestone foundation; brick (unpainted) walls. Gable (corrugated metal) roof. 6/6 double hung sash with soldier course segmental brick arches, stone lug sills, and original wood shutters. Raised concrete stoop with side (from north) poured concrete stairs (five) iron open rail (modern). Entrance with single light paneled door and historic four-light storm door; three-light transom. End bays with single windows. Raised stretcher course and dentulous for cornice, facade only. North elevation with rebuilt exterior end chimney with cinder door. Basement exposed toward north facade and on north elevation. Four "S" end tie rods. South elevation nearly blind with off-set (to the right/east) 6-light attic sash. Rear gable wing added (as evidenced by brick), but historic, with single rowlock segmental arched 6/6 windows; original shutters deteriorated. Exterior end rear chimney this wing. Small shed roof reentrant angle porch (historic) with rear stair to backyard (at lower level.) Wood posts and decorative patterned wood open rail.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Alley to south with c. 1' setback for house and small planting area defined with a timber. 18-wheel and delivery truck traffic for West Dunklin businesses with rear delivery areas. Vacated house (707 rear) in near ruin to rear of this lot (nearby garage) at alley dates to the same period. Oversized frame shed roof garage at rear lot off alley. Wood swing doors; green asbestos shingle siding. Pedestrian door toward house (west).

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: Mrs. Christina Baumann
 1915 City Directory: Same
 1925 City Directory: Same
 1935 City Directory: Same, bookkeeper

Appears on the 1908 Sanborn Map, the first to show this section. The one story rear addition to the south is shown with a rear porch. A second rear porch was in the rear reentrant angle. A one story outbuilding was shown where an outbuilding remains currently. The German School was just across the alley south at 709. The 1923 and 1939 Sanborn Maps show the house unchanged.

Constructed by Wendeln Buehrle in 1864; Buehrle had purchased the property from Charles P. Hyatt on March 11, 1864. Wendeln was born in Baden, Germany in 1828. He arrived in Jefferson City in 1858, after first staying in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Wendeln was a Union soldier, serving in the Home Guards I the Civil War. He came to the United States after being forced to leave Germany, having participated in the revolt against the government in the 1840s. His wife, Margaret Bodtenschats, was a native of Bavaria, born in 1827. She, too, ended up in Fort Wayne, where she met and married Wendeln. A potter by trade, Wendeln also worked at plastering and bricklaying, as well as serving as a contractor in building construction. The Buehrles came to Jefferson City after losing their Fort Wayne home to fire. In addition to constructing his own house, Wendeln built at least two other houses in the same neighborhood (perhaps 714 Washington Street, nearby across the street), and built or assisted with the construction of a number of Cole County churches. Margaret Buehrle died in 1872; Wendeln died in 1914 at the age of eighty-seven. Their third child, Fredolin, apparently inherited Wendeln's bricklaying and construction skills, as Fred's career in masonry is quite notable. According to the History of Jefferson City, Fred was born on January 31, 1860. He began his career by clerking at various stores in Jefferson City, as well as assisting his father with whitewashing, hod carrying, etc. After a brief tenure in St. Louis, Fred returned to Jefferson City in 1881 to begin work as a bricklayer. He worked under Frank Miller, then a brick contractor and architect, (later of the Miller and Opel architecture firm, the firm that designed Broadway School in the Southside) and a "friendship between the two was formed which [endured] for more than [a] half century." Buehrle constructed the Dallmeyer and Linhardt buildings in 1881, assisted on the 1882 union depot at Pacific, assumed the contract for the Robertson building after Mr. Miller was injured in an accident, served as foreman to complete a brick wall at the Missouri State prison, and worked on the Lohman Opera House, the Carnegie Library, dormitories at Lincoln Institute, a twenty-stall roundhouse for the Missouri Pacific, the Episcopal and the Methodist churches, and a five story addition to the Madison Hotel. For more than a year, he was foreman in the construction of the wings on the old state capitol in 1887-88.

Together with 714 Washington Street, this house is one of two remaining excellent examples of the German vernacular architecture which once dominated this neighborhood, but little of which remains.
 Recommended for potential listing in the National Register of Historic Places.
 Recommended for potential local landmark status.

2.X Further Description

2 stories with attic. American Four Square. L-plan. 3 bay symmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick walls (unpainted). Hip (asphalt shingle) roof. 1/1 double hung sash with stone lintels and lug sills; side/rear elevation windows with double rowlock segmental brick arches. Full-facade hip roof porch with raised deck clad with artificial turf; full-height brick piers rise from ground at corners; pedestal to left/south of entrance; wood slat balustrade; plain cornice. Main section with two bay facade; right door (6-light original) with modern storm door and modern wood surround. Left bay with side 1/1 window; two regular size windows above each bay on the second story. Third facade bay created by side hip pavilion to the north. A single window each story faces front from this section. Hip roof dormer central of hip front section with wide 1/1 window. Symmetrical south elevation with three 1/1 windows. Two brick pilaster-like features appear too small to be exterior end chimneys. Hip roof dormer this elevation narrower than the one facing front. North elevation with multi-light leaded window with segmental soldier course brick arch and keystone at staircase; a second stair landing window is a small 1/1 with a lintel. The other north-facing windows have double rowlock segmental brick arches. Basement windows with rock-faced stone lintels. Hip roof dormer as on the south. Exterior end chimney cropped below dormer. One story single bay rear brick original wing with side parapets. Shed porch with entrance off this wing. Porch with rear open shed for storage. Second story enclosure built out over this porch (hardboard sided) with access to roof of porch for small open deck. Good condition. Converted from single to multi-family.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Paved alley to north busy with access to drive-in bank on West Dunklin. Chain link fenced rear lot. Concrete retaining wall for part of carport set into hill.
Gable roof double car carport at rear lot off alley.

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Irregular plan; altered Queen Anne cottage. Limestone foundation painted bluish gray; brick walls painted white. Hip, gable and flat (asphalt, asphalt shingle) roofs. 1/1 double hung sash with soldier course segmental brick arches facing front; double rowlock segmental brick arches facing sides; stone lug sills. Trim painted blue/gray. Left gable front wing with pair narrow 1/1 double hung sash, panel and bulls-eye window head, and soldier course segmental arch. Modern hardboard sided gable with flat roof addition "squaring" the gable on either side to the main hip block. Upper story with single modern window. Boxed cornice and extensive bargeboard consisting of upside down sun rays, spindle work below with side quarter sunbursts framing the upper story/boxed cornice. Entrance with blocked transom and smaller 1/1 window in reentrant angle into main hip roof section. Flat roof reentrant angle porch with spindled frieze, raised wood deck (replacement). Modern deck added above for second story entrance into addition onto gable front. North elevation with gable roof dormer clad with hardboard on its sides, but fishscale shingles north; pair 1/1 windows. North side gable with single 1/1 window front/east. Rear elevation appears to have another upper story addition on the side gable with a historic/original brick one story wing beyond appearing to be full-elevation (visible on south elevation as well, but recessed from south elevation plane). Four windows south elevation. Iron security grates added. Flat roof addition to gable full-elevation south; pair modern windows and air conditioner inserted, but blind otherwise.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Shallow front lot. Hedgerow south side, front lot. Church across the street.
No outbuildings.

Among only a few houses in the neighborhood to have such a long tenure with one family. The Hollerorth House to the north at 712 also was home to one family during the range of city directories checked.

Appears on the 1923 Sanborn Map, the first to show this area. No porch is shown, but few porches were shown on that year's map. The north elevation has a U-shape toward the rear. A single car garage was located on the south lot line near the rear alley. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows the north elevation U-shape infilled, and a small front reentrant angle porch; a rear porch was shown/added.

Exceptional bargeboard intact despite extremely insensitive addition(s).

2.X Further Description

1-1/2 stories. Queen Anne influence. L-plan. Three bay asymmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick walls (unpainted). Hip and gable (asphalt shingle) roofs. 1/1 double hung sash with soldier course segmental or round arches; smooth stone lug sills with rock-faced stone panels; painted white. Left/south gable pavilion with wide 1/1 double hung sash on first story with segmental arch and plain window head. Small round arched 1/1 in upper story; cornice returns. Recessed hip roof block with second and third bays. Entrance in second bay; small round arched 1/1 window in third right/north end bay. Flat roof porch nearly full-facade, curved at gable front; brick pedestals painted white with Doric columns; low concrete deck; broad plain cornice; modern iron open rail added. South elevation mostly blocked by trees. Exterior end chimney. Interior end chimney through shed dormer cropped at dormer roof. Three shed dormers on this side. Angled south side entrance bay ornamented with a quarter sunburst, knob and spindle corner brackets, and knob pendil. North elevation with gable bay projection cut-away with knob and spindle side brackets as on south side entrance. Exterior end chimney in middle through eave. Modern deck on rear elevation.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Appears to be a student rental, but well-maintained; good condition.
No outbuildings; no driveway.

The 1908 Sanborn Map depicts the "Parsonage" with front and rear 1-story corner porches; the German School is at the alley. The 1923 map shows the irregular plan house with an L-plan porch, it is labeled "pasters residence." The 1939 map is similar with a 2-story southeast corner rear porch. Both maps show a rectangular "Central Evangelical Sunday School" building to the north before the alley.

According to "Central Evangelical and Reformed Church" pamphlet (Robert G. Herrmann, pastor; published to commemorate the One Hundredth Anniversary of the founding of Central Church), it was voted on May 1, 1898 to build a new parsonage at a cost not to exceed $3,000; it was completed by January 1, 1899 at a cost of $3,109.33. It was voted on January 5, 1916 to erect a Sunday School building north of the parsonage.

The Cole County Illustrated Sketch Book and Directory of Jefferson City and Cole County has an entry (p. 266-268) for the German Evangelical Central Church. A picture of the parsonage with its original Queen Anne style south corner porch and roof cresting is shown.

2.X Further Description

1 story with attic. Central Passage, single pile vernacular type. L-plan altered historically to rectangular plan. Five bay symmetrical facade. Limestone foundation; brick walls. Side gable (corrugated metal) roof. 1/1 double hung sash with soldier course jack arches; wood sills. Exceptional central entrance composed of door with thin multi-light sidelights and 4-light transom showing influence of the Greek Revival style. Two 1/1 windows on either side. Flat roof porch over entrance and left adjacent window (second and third bays) only. South side access to porch appears to be blocked by large industrial cable reel. Porch with turned posts (4 front and two engaged posts at facade plane). "Paddle wheel" corner brackets off each post; plain cornice. Facade with header dentils and raised stretcher beltcourse for cornice, wraps slightly either side elevation. Interior end chimneys either gable end; orth chimney cropped. Elevation drops to north with more of basement exposed. Rear gable wing on south end; exterior end apex chimney. Nearly all of south elevation is block by evergreens and overgrown volunteer trees. Rear reentrant angle appears to be infilled with one story wing. Shed porch enclosed with fiberglass off half of rear gable and part of reentrant infill wing. Rear gable with interior end chimney. Attic vent south of center. From north elevation, brick shed roof rear wing appears historic infill of rear reentrant angle; windows here with double rowlock segmental brick arches. North elevation with basement entrance; mailbox located here. Mortar missing from much of upper gable, north elevation. Some structural failure with wall slanting in.

2.Y. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

House appears to have been unoccupied for an extended period of time, at least on the first story of the main section; the window treatments are torn/frayed.

Clear view of portions of the front and south side of the house blocked by evergreens. Rear yard fenced with c. 4' solid wood dog-eared fencing.

No outbuildings visible.

T. Significance

1908 City Directory: J. (John) Philip and Caroline Hess, Post Office clerk

1915 City Directory: Same, mail carrier

1925 City Directory: Same

1935 City Directory: Same, no job listed; perhaps retired

Appears on the 1923 Sanborn Map, the first to show this block. House is shown with its current configuration. Lot shown to rear alley with one story garage on north lot line; apparently access was from across the yard. The 1939 Sanborn Map shows a rear reentrant angle porch; the rear of the lot had been subdivided with 216 West Ashley added. The garage on this lot was still shown.

A 1970 Missouri State Historical Survey form on this property states that this house may have been built by/for Charles Schulz before 1864; Schulz only owned the property from March 7, 1864 to January 10, 1865. However, the house would appear to date to c. 1864. The house may have been constructed by Wendelin Buehrle, a stone mason who built and lived at 707 Washington Street, mid-block across the street. Buehrle family records note that he built or worked on a number of Cole County churches and at least two other houses in the neighborhood of the Buehrle House. The house's detailing is similar to the Buehrle House. (See 707 Washington Street.)

REFERENCE NUMBER	A. HISTORIC NAME	B. COUNTY	C. ADDRESS
	Hess House	051/Cole	714 Washington Street

Philip Hess, a butcher and meat processor, was an immigrant from Germany. According to the 1970 survey, he had a meat wagon which he used to travel and sell his goods locally. He also operated a grocery store in this house, with living quarters above. (The north side basement entrance is presumed to have been for that purpose.) Prior to the German Evangelical Church being constructed across the street (the first version had an address of 711 Washington), church meetings were sometimes held in the Hess House. Philip Hess was one of the founders of the church.

On April 10, 1895, Philip Hess's son, John Philip, inherited the family house. The younger Hess had married Caroline Hoepflinger in 1893. J. Philip assisted his father with the store, but sometime after his father's death, closed the business. J. Philip worked as a letter carrier for thirty years.

Three generations of the Hess family were born in this house, including J. Philip and his three children (Selma Katharine Hess, Carl Hess, and Alma Carolyn Hess Heinrich. The children of Alma Hess and Victor Heinrich were also born here. (Mrs. Victor Heinrich was at 2026 Meadow Lane, Jefferson City, and was cited as a reference on the 1970 survey.)

Potentially eligible to the National Register of Historic Places for architectural significance as an excellent example of the mid-nineteenth German vernacular architecture (and craftsmanship) which once dominated this neighborhood. The house is also symbolic historically of the German immigration/migration into this neighborhood, and the businesses which were once a vital part of the neighborhood (in this case, a basement grocery store.) Recommended for local landmark status also.

The house is in immediate need of proper maintenance to ensure its preservation.

1935 City Directory: Central Evangelical Church

The 1908, 1923, and 1939 Sanborn maps show the church without its additions. The congregation was organized in 1858. A brick church building was erected at the corner of Ashley and Washington streets in 1859, a spire was added in 1866. A parsonage was built in 1860 and a school building in 1872.

The original church was razed in 1891 with construction begun immediately on a new building. Fred Binder, church member, built the church for a cost of $7,850. It was enlarged (east addition and west entry enclosure) and remodeled in 1957 with P. John Hoener and Associates, St. Louis architect and Schell Construction Company, contractors; a second addition was added c. 1979.
