This c. 1973 modern style building was designed when two buildings occupying this property lot were renovated, modernize and combined to form one large building under the supervision of Charles Matthews, president of the Bank of Sikeston. Originally the section located on the corner of E. Center and New Madrid was built to house the Bank of Sikeston (c. 1934); a one-story brick building. The eastern section fronting E. Center was a two-story building (c. 1917) and according to the 1919 Sanborn map was fire-proof construction with brick walls and reinforced concrete roof and floors. In 1973, the Bank of Sikeston purchased the Scott County Milling Company building (135 E. Center St.). The two buildings have been completely renovated on the exterior and interior with a second level addition added to the original bank building. During the renovation, a mural painted in 1956 by Mr. Chomyk, on the north interior wall of the Bank of Sikeston was kept and is still intact. The removal of the original storefronts and windows, lack of original architectural features and the change to one modern style building from two older buildings has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston MO on the northeast corner of E. Center and New Madrid Streets (brick paved streets). The property is bounded on the north by a paved alleyway with a paved parking lot beyond and to the south by E. Center St. Building is bounded to the west by New Madrid St. and a two-story brick building to the east. The surrounding area is occupied by commercial buildings. The setting is that of a small town.

This building is two-stories in height with an irregular footprint, flat roof and wall surface clad in marble panels. It was originally two separate buildings combined c. 1973 and remodeled in a modern style. The building located on the corner of E. Center and New Madrid is a few feet shorter in height than the second attached building on E. Center. The façade (north) features a recessed entrance flanked three-light display windows. The west elevation features recessed entrance near the south corner with two single light windows. A night deposit box is flanked to the north by a recessed area housing an entrance. A projecting wide metal basket weave band covers the entire second level of the main façade and west elevation, wrapping around the corner to the north elevation extending only a few feet. The north elevation on the first level features a drive-thru window flanked to the east by small rectangular windows and flanked to the west by an ATM machine. The second level features modern 1/1 windows. Extending out from the building to the north is a drive-thru canopy with three lanes.

This two-story building was constructed c. 1906 by builder, John Young. The property was originally owned by William Tanner and Dan McCoy. McCoy owned Dan McCoy Seed Co., and his office was located within the McCoy-Tanner building. Then during the depression Tanner and McCoy experienced financial difficulties forcing the property to go into foreclosure. C.D. Matthews Estate obtained Tanner's half-interest; C.L. Keaton purchased McCoy's interest. An advertisement by E.J. Keith (May 25, 1936) in the Sikeston Herald stated the McCoy-Tanner building was for sale and the layout of the building included four store (business or retail space) rooms, four apartments (five rooms), but did not include the asking price. The building housed a variety of businesses over the years including the post office (c.1907 – 1932) and a temporary home for People’s Bank (c. 1909 - 1910), while the bank building was being constructed. According to the 1910 Sanborn map the building housed a clothing store/boots and shoes, two jewelry stores, post office, bank, cigar and confectionary store, a cigar and pool hall, drug store and one business/retail space was vacant. Then by 1919, according to the Sanborn map, the building housed an electric supply store located in the vacant space (1910). It also had a dry goods and clothing store, jewelry store, drug store, post office and confectionary store. By 1936 (March), the building was occupied by Bailey & Bailey attorneys, Robert Dempster, attorney, W.M. Sidwell, optometrist, and C. I. McMullin Estate. Currently the building is occupied by Sikeston City Hall and has experienced recent exterior alterations. The upper level retains early period windows, while the first level has replacement windows. Originally, the building featured display style windows with transoms on the first level. In addition, the first level wall surface has been covered in dryvit. The projecting cornice line with brackets on the northeast corner has been removed and the decorative brick pattern on the north elevation of the cornice line has been covered. The removal of the original storefronts and all of the original architectural details on the first floor, as well as the dryvit clad wall surface has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston MO on the southeast corner of E. Center and New Madrid Streets (brick paved streets). It is bounded on the south by a paved alleyway and to the north by E. Center St. The building is bounded by a paved parking area on the east and New Madrid St. to the west. The surrounding area is occupied by commercial buildings. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a two-story brick building measuring approximately 120’ x 93’ with an irregular footprint and a flat roof with a projecting cornice line with brackets on the west elevation. The façade (north) features six bays; centered recessed entrance flanked by three windows to the east and two windows to the west. The west elevation features north to south; two windows, entrance door, four windows, entrance door and window. All windows on the first level are flanked by shutters. According to an historic photograph (c. 1927), the first level featured display style windows with transoms framed in cast iron with cast iron and brick bulkheads on the façade and west elevation. Currently, the building has a metal covered walkway with a metal post that extends from the building to the edge of the sidewalk. According to the historic photograph, the building featured a flat roof awning supported by upper brackets and extended out a few feet from the building. A painted stone or concrete stringcourse delineates the first and second level. The second level features early 8/8 windows with decorative detailing around the windows. According to a historic photograph, at one time the second level windows were 1/1. Originally, located in the center of the second level (north elevation) was an arched window located about the first level entrance. The window has been removed (date unknown). Located on the west elevation above the windows and under the projecting cornice near the southwest corner are the words "McCoy & Tanner 1906 R C Applegate."

Historically, this property was comprised of one building (c. 1928) and was known as the Welter Building (116-118 E. Center St.). Dedication of the Welter Building was held September 13, 1928. The Welter Bakery and the Elite Hat Shop (owned by Eva Welter) occupied the building. Then in 1938, Ben Welter constructed a new building (112-114 E. Center St.) adjoining the west elevation of the Welter Building; in order expand his bakery in the rear section of the building and retail/office space in the front. The c. 1938 building was designed in style to match the c. 1928 building. Welter commissioned the Triangle Lumber Company to erect the new building with company president, J.L Sutterfield as architect and J.A. Sutterfield, contractor. Construction started in April 1938 with completion of the building by July 28, 1938. Upon completion, the expanded building increased the size of the bakery rooms located in the rear section of the building, and added two office spaces in the front section. Sikeston Production Credit Association leased one of the office spaces. The second level was comprised of two apartments, each having four rooms and a bathroom. One apartment was occupied by Welter and his wife and the second apartment was leased to Homer D. Bahsue and wife. The building has undergone recent renovation (c. 2010) with the application of dryvit on the façade. The original clay tile clad visor replaced with metal roofing and modern glass/metal doors and windows. The removal of the original storefront, no original architectural elements being retained, as well as, the dryvit clad wall surface, the integrity of the building has been compromised and building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

This Spanish Colonial Revival influenced style building (c. 1945) housed the Delta Loan and Finance company in 1955. According to the 1943 Sanborn map, the property lot was unoccupied, but the lot to the west (120 E. Center St.) was occupied by a two-story building measuring 26' in width. Due to lack of written documentation, it is not clear if the current building measuring approximately 40' in width was new construction or an expansion of the existing building at 120 E. Center St. The tax assessment record does not provide a construction date. The building was constructed for mixed use; commercial on first level and apartments on the second level. It currently houses two retail businesses with apartments on the second level. The windows and entrance doors are replacement (c. 1960s -1970s). This property may retain enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area has been too altered to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO. It fronts (south) E. Center St. (a brick paved street) and is bounded to the north by a paved alleyway. The building is bounded to the east by a one-story building and to the west by a two-story building. The area surrounding the building is a commercial district. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a Spanish Colonial Revival style building (c. 1945) with an irregular footprint. The building has three sections running north-south; front section two-stories in height (40’ x 33’); a center section one-story in height (40’ x 58’); rear section one-story in height (23’ x 24’). The façade features four bays with a red awning over them. Fenestration from east to west: rectangular shaped meta/glass showcase window flanked by metal/glass entrance doors on east and west; large metal/glass display window; large metal/glass display window; metal/glass entrance door and metal/glass display window. The second level contains three double windows with red awnings above. The roofline has a parapeted side gable visor roof clad in clay tiles with wide eaves and support brackets.

This building, which houses the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has experienced several expansions and alterations. The original building was located at the west section of the property lot and was constructed between 1927 and 1943 according to Sanborn maps. In 1952, the building was expanded to the east and the garage was modified and converted to the equipment room. An addition was constructed on to the first level and part of the second level was expanded. The total cost of the expansion was $50,000. In 1956, an article in the Sikeston Herald (untitled) presented a rendering of another planned expansion to the east. Viewing this rendering and the current building it appears the third level of the east section of the building was constructed after the 1956 expansion. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company played a significant role in the community's history providing phone service and jobs to Sikeston and the surrounding region. The removal of the original windows and the newer addition has compromised the integrity of the building and does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO. It fronts (north) E. Center Street (a brick paved street) with on street parking. It is bounded to the east and west by paved parking lots and to the south by a paved alleyway. The surrounding area is comprised of commercial buildings. The setting is that of a small town.

The original brick building (c.1940) was two-stories in height and approximately 26’ in width. In 1952, the building was expanded to the east and the garage was modified and converted to the equipment room. An addition was constructed on to the first level and part of the second level was expanded. In the 1956 sketch, the east section of the building was one and two stories in height. The second level is located in the section with the concrete panel façade with the one-story section extending out a few feet to the east. The second level was clad in concrete panels up to the roofline. Located within the concrete façade were four small windows; currently only two of the original windows are intact. The west section of the façade featured ribbon windows with transoms on the first and second level flanked to the west by a large multi-light window, two-stories in height. The ribbon windows have been removed and replaced with two narrow vertical strips with the east strip holding a vent and slender window separated by concrete section; the west strip contains two slender windows. A third level has been added to the east section of the second level. The east elevation is clad in brick except for two vent panels at the north corner.

<td>This is a one-story brick building (c. 1957) that has been altered (date unknown) by the installation of dryvit on the exterior walls. The original windows have been replaced with modern metal/glass; as well as entrance door and glass window surround. The main window bay on the façade indicated the original opening has been infilled and fitted with a smaller window. The building was constructed to house Security Federal Savings in Loan. It received federal approval to operate on August 8, 1957 (Sikeston Herald). The 1943 Sanborn map depicts an unoccupied lot at 124 E. Center St. and a 1955 city directory does not have a listing for 124 E. Center St. It is likely the building was constructed in 1957 given the documentation of the Sanborn map, city directory, and the documentation of the newspaper. Associated with the building is a paved concrete parking lot located to the east of the building. Due to the removal of the original storefront, the loss of architectural detail, as well as the dryvit clad wall surface, has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked &quot;not eligible&quot;.</td>

Description: Malone Park – Gazabo – looking northwest
ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Malone Park is Sikeston’s oldest park and is located on 2.34 acres. In 1906 Dr. E. J. Malone helped established the community park by donating one-fourth of the value of the land (Malone Park) to the City of Sikeston. The remaining funds to secure the park would be raised through popular subscription. To pay tribute to Malone, the park originally known as Wilson Park and was renamed in his honor. Malone served as the mayor of Sikeston from 1906 – 1916. The gazebo or band stand was constructed at a cost of $1,200 and dedicated in 1912. This property and the bandstand may retain enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area needs to be further elevated to determine if a historic district exist for the surround area to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked “not eligible”. |

Malone Park is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO. It is bounded by North and W. Center Streets to the north and south; Scott and Stoddard Streets to the east and west. Residential dwellings and commercial buildings are located in the vicinity of the park. Located within the park is playground equipment, park benches, picnic tables, a glider swing, drinking fountain. A Craftsman style influenced gazebo (c. 1912) with a square footprint is located on the east side of the park fronting Scott St. The setting is that of a small town. |

A Craftsman style influenced gazebo/band stand (c. 1912) with a square footprint is located on the east side of the park, fronting Scott St. The gazebo features a hipped roof with wall dormers on each elevation. The dormers have wide overhanging eaves with exposed brackets as does the gazebo/band stand. The east facing dormer has the year “1912” inscribed in the gable end. The hipped roof is supported by square columns with square column supports. Located within the park are five concrete benches, an older water fountain, and playground equipment. Also located within the park are two concrete cannon holders (c. 1916) constructed to house Spanish-American War cannons which were sold during World War II for a scrap metal drive for war efforts. The city of Sikeston is currently trying to replace the cannons. |

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

This two-story brick and dryvit clad building was constructed c. 1927 to house a pharmacy. According to the 1927 Sanborn map the building was in the planning stages as the map notes "from plans" on the footprint of this building sketch. The 1927 and 1943 Sanborn maps indicate the building was three stories in height; it is unknown when or why the building became two stories in height at this time. A historic photograph (c. 1940s) posted on the Scott County Genealogy and Historical website depicts the three levels. The 1955 and 1962 city directories list Heisserer's Drug Store at this location. However, according to an article from May 26, 1949 (Sikeston Herald) T. Leroy Heisserer sold his pharmacy business to L.A. Harris and the business would be renamed Harris Pharmacy. An article that ran on October 24, 1940 in the Sikeston Herald stated Heisserer purchased the pharmacy from Paul Galloway, who had purchased it from J.A. Hess. Galloway purchased the pharmacy in August 1928. Currently the building is occupied by Family Counseling Center. The building has undergone recent renovations to the façade; dryvit has been applied to the first level and modern windows have been installed. The removal of the original storefront, the loss of architectural elements, the original first level windows removed, as well as, the dryvit clad wall surface has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

This is a two-story brick and dryvit clad building (c. 1927) with a low hip roof and irregular footprint. The façade has five bays: centered recessed entrance with modern style glass/metal doors flanked by modern double windows and metal/glass entrance doors located at each corner of the building (east/west). The first level is clad in dryvit. The second level is brick and has three 1/1 early period windows. The west elevation has a 1/1 early period window and a boarded entrance door and on the second story has two 1/1 early period windows. The east elevation abuts to the two-story brick building located at 201 New Madrid St.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

| 21. (cont.) History and significance. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages. | This building was constructed c. 1947 to house the Mitchell-Sharp Chevrolet Company and was opened for business in September the same year. According to a 1962 city directory, Mitchell-Sharp Chevrolet Co. still occupied the building. The tax assessment record indicates the Otasco store occupied the building in the 1980s then later, according to information provided by Brandon Kuehn, Executive Director of Historic Midtown Development Group, Inc, the building housed Craftsmasters Warehouse. The property has experienced some alterations (garage bays were enclosed and enclosed windows). Due to these modern alterations the property does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible". |

| 40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages. | The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO fronting W. Center St. on the southeast corner of W. Center and Scott St. It is bounded on the west by Scott St. A paved concrete driveway and parking area is located to the west elevation then boarded by Scott St. A concrete paved sidewalk runs along the front of the building. East elevation is bounded by paved parking lot, originally associated with the building. The setting is that of a small town. |

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

This property was constructed c. 1949 to house the A & P Super Market. The grand opening of the A & P store was held February 16, 1949. The store was designed to be the “Store of Tomorrow,” a one-stop food department organized conveniently for planned menu shopping. The equipment was the latest in design with modern dairy, meat, and produce cases. Over 1,000 people attended the grand opening which featured a musical quiz contest in conjunction with KSIM radio; local artist would sing a poplar song with a food item in the lyrics and customer would name the food item mentioned. The radio show was recorded and aired at a later time in the day to give shoppers time to return home and listen to the program. Given the honor of opening the store door for the public for the first time was Ann McAmis, a young girl, who was crowned “Miss Sikeston of Tomorrow.” She waved her “magic wand” as she walked through the electronic doors, inviting the public to enter. According to the tax assessment record, the store was remodeled c. 1977 but the record does not indicate what alterations occurred. The cornice line of the façade has experience more recent changes (c.1990s); a brown metal slip cover has been installed. This property may retain enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area has been too altered to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO. Building fronts W. Center St. (a brick street) and is located on the northeast corner of W. Center and Scott St. Property is bounded on the east and west elevations by paved parking lots (associated with property); bounded to the north (rear) by a paved alleyway. To the south (across W. Center Street) is a one-story commercial building and a paved parking lot. Malone Park is located to the west across Scott Street. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a one part brick commercial block building (c. 1949) that is rectangular in shape and has a flat roof. The façade contains three bays. Fenestration from east to west: glass/metal entrance door with two-light transom and side light; glass/metal commercial window with three rows of nine lights; a recessed three-sided curved entrance door with two single glass/metal entrance doors flanked on the outside by side lights with a centered two-light glass/metal window and transoms above. The glass windows appear to be original or early. The roofline of the façade has a wide overhanging eave covered in a modern (c. 1990s) metal slip cover. The west elevation has a centered double glass/metal entrance door located under a gable roof supported by post. To the right of the double entrance is a single enclosed entrance door. There are three small rectangular shaped glass block windows.

<td>The main dwelling fronting W. Center St. was constructed c. 1925 as well as the dwelling (historically addressed 111. N. Scott) on the northwest corner of the alley on the same property lot. Both were originally constructed as residential dwellings designed in the Colonial Revival style, but have been significantly altered. On the dwelling located at 203 W. Center the porch as been enclosed and the dwelling at 111 N. Scott has had several additions constructed on to the east, north and south elevations. The one-story commercial block building constructed c.1960, housed the Flower Basket in 1962. Due to the property’s modern alterations of enclosed porch (203 W. Center), brick addition to 201 W. Center, as well as several modern additions to 111 N. Scott (house) the alterations have compromised the integrity of the buildings and the buildings do not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district.</td>

This residential dwelling building was constructed c. 1919 (depicted on 1919 Sanborn map) and expanded in the 1920s on the south (rear) elevation (depicted on 1927 Sanborn map). At one time the house had a tile clad roof according to Sanborn maps. Loomis and Nina Mayfield owned the residence for several decades then the property was sold to Boyd W. and Mary S. Ott. Mayfield owned Sikeston Cleaning and Tailoring Co., later to become Nu-Way Cleaners in Sikeston. The Mayfield’s were very active in the community with membership to many community organizations and he served as alderman for the city. Located on the south portion of the property were two outbuildings; it is unknown when the buildings were demolished. This property may retain enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area has been too altered to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

A one and one-half story brick Craftsman bungalow house with a cross hipped gambrel roof and an irregular footprint. The façade features four bays and an enclosed partial width porch with Doric columns with eyebrow roofline over porch entrance. Within the enclosed porch is the main entrance and 12/1 Craftsman style windows. Located in the clipped gable end of the façade 12/1 ribbon window with vent above. House has wide over hanging eaves with exposed brackets and rafter tails. The east elevation features an open porch with Doric columns on north corner with 12/1 Craftsman style windows on the south portion. West elevation has 12/1 Craftsman style windows. A covered carport is located on the south (rear) addition. In the 1920s prior to 1927, a 14’ x 7’ addition was constructed on the southwest corner of the dwelling and a 13’ x 10’ addition was constructed on the southeast corner.

Description:

Constructed c. 1945, this brick building was originally constructed to house the Taylor Funeral Home then later converted to apartments. On February 9, 1944, Orville Taylor purchase the unoccupied lot at 209 W. Center Street from Lee Hunter of St. Louis to construct the future home of Taylor Funeral Home, which was located at the time on Scott Street. Taylor started in the funeral home business working for Dempster Undertaking Company then later would work for National Funeral Home. In December 1941, Taylor purchased half of the interest of the National Funeral Home which had recently been purchased by W. Croy. Taylor commissioned architect, A. F. Lindsey, to design the new building and awarded the construction contract to C.H. Harrison. By the end of September 1945, the basement had been constructed but due to a shortage of bricks and bricklayers, construction was delayed, it is unknown when construction was about to begin after the delay. The plans called for the funeral home to be located on the first level. On the second level, a five room apartment to be occupied by Taylor and his wife and an additional three room efficiently apartment. According to the tax assessment record, this property underwent alteration in 1967; it is unknown what alterations occurred. In January 1955, John F. Nunnelee Sr. purchased the Taylor Funeral Home and changed the name of the business to the Nunnelee Funeral Home. There is a small one-story brick building with a hipped roof located at the southwest corner of the property, which is currently used as an apartment. This property and the outbuilding may retain enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area has been too altered to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO and fronts W. Center Street. It is bounded on the east by a Craftsman Style Bungalow dwelling, and to the west by a two-story Colonial Revival dwelling that serves as the rectory for St. Francis Xavier Church. To the rear (south) of the property a one-story brick building is located at the southwest corner of the lot. To the south the property is bounded by a paved alleyway; south of the alleyway is the St. Francis Xavier School and Pre-school buildings. Across W. Center St. to the north is Malone Park. The setting is that of a small town.

This property appears to have some Spanish Revival influence due to the fenestration (small offset windows, arched openings (infilled) and the iron balconet under the small window over the entrance. The property is a cross-gable brick building with the gable end two-stories in height and the wing one-story in height. The property has an irregular footprint. The façade features six bays. The gable end is symmetrical and contains two bays; an arched entrance with an original or early wood panel door with a six-light window centered in the upper panel. The entrance is flanked by double 1/1 windows with tapestry brick below and above. The second level features double 1/1 windows above lower double windows and a small 6/1 window with balcony centered over the entrance. Gable end holds a four-light circular window. The one-story wing holds three bays and a stepped backed addition has one bay. The main wing features three arched two-light windows with tapestry brick below and the stepped back area of façade features a small window. The east façade is symmetrical; the first level has centered door flanked by 1/1 windows; the second level has three 1/1 windows. The west façade features a partial width open porch. The one-story brick outbuilding with a hipped roof and square footprint features 1/1 windows on each elevation with an entrance door on the west elevation.

Description:
Façade and West elevation, looking southeast, showing façade, west elevation, St. Francis Xavier School in background.
This property was built c. 1912 by James E. Smith for his family home. The architect and builder/contractor are unknown. The residential dwelling originally had a large full-with double encircling porch (east and west) with an open side porch and a porte-cochere on the east elevation and balustrade deck on hip roof. It is unknown when the porch, porte-cochere, and balustrade were removed but it occurred after 1943 according the Sanborn map. The background history of James E. Smith is relatively unknown. By the 1930 census, the Smith family was no longer residing in the dwelling; Med and Lucy Ledford with Thomas Hanford (servant) were living in the house. In 1930, St. Francis Xavier Church acquired the property to covert the dwelling into a school and convent. At that time, the church made some alterations to the building. After the new school was built (c.1950) at 6 N. Stoddard St., the school and convent was relocated to the school building and the Smith house was converted to the church rectory. While the house has undergone some alterations, the majority appear to have occurred more than 50 years ago. Designed in the Colonial Revival style, the James E. Smith/St. Francis Xavier Rectory building is locally significant under Criterion C Architecture, as part of a historic district comprised of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church and St. Francis Xavier School.

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston on the southeast corner of W. Center St. and N. Stoddard St; fronting W. Center St. The property is bounded on the south by a paved alleyway and on the east by a paved driveway. A two-story brick apartment building is located to the east and to the north in Malone Park (across W. Center St.). Located to the south across the alleyway is the St. Francis Xavier School building. One block east is the downtown commercial district. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a two and one-half story brick dwelling with a truncated hip roof, pediment dormers and a two-story centered porch with brick square columns. The façade features three bays; centered entrance with a glass panel door, side lights and transoms flanked to the east by a projecting bay with 1/1 windows and to the west with a three-paired 1/1 window. The second level matches the first level with the exception of the entrance; second level features a centered door flanked by 1/1 windows. A brick one-story two-car garage is located in the previous footprint of the porte-cochere and side porch. The porch features a flat roof with decorative garland detailing in the cornice with brackets. Located on the front slope of the roof is a centered pediment dormer with three-paired 1/1 windows flanked by pediment dormers with 1/1 windows. The west roof line matches the front slope. The west elevation has a two-story projecting bay with 1/1 windows on the north corner flanked by 1/1 windows on first and second levels. Centered in the west elevation on the second level is a circular window flanked to the south (first and second level) by 1/1 windows. The south (rear) elevation has 1/1 windows on the first and second levels. A brick two-story addition is located on the southeast corner of the rear elevation. The roof slope of rear elevation has no dormers. Located at the north corner of the east elevation is the two-car garage addition (fronting north); located on the rear (south) elevation of the garage is an entrance door and a 1/1 window. The first level of the east elevation located behind the garage is three-paired 1/1 window flanked to the south by the addition with an entrance door. The second level has 1/1 windows. The roof slope of east elevation has a pediment dormer with a vent.

A two-story brick building (c. 1896) designed in the Romanesque Revival style influence, rectangular footprint and flat roof. The first dentils runs the width of the façade and the length of the west elevation. A decorative belt course with wave ornamentation runs the width of the façade and wrap around the west elevation and runs halfway. The building is situated in downtown Sikeston on the northeast corner of E. Front and N. New Madrid Streets (brick paved streets). The features a recessed entranced with glass/metal doors with glass/metal showcase widows flanked to the west by a glass/metal display been remodeled to hold a display window. An arched 1/1 window is located on second level above the chamfered corner. The façade now is clad in wood siding including a chamfered entrance (southwest corner) that originally featured an arched stone entrance but has window with a wood shingle clad canopy running the width and wrapping around to the west elevation. The second level windows on the west elevation are boarded up. Modern alterations to the façade including a replace storefront with an enclosed chamfered entrance on the first level and wood sliding have comprised the integrity of the building. Due to the modern alterations of the façade the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston on the northeast corner of E. Front and N. New Madrid Streets (brick paved streets). The building fronts E. Front St. and is bounded by said street to the south and bounded by N. New Madrid St. to the west. A paved alleywaybounds the property to the north and a two-story building bounds the property to the east. On street parking is located on the north and south sides of E. Front Street. Legion Park is located is located to the south across E. Front Street.

The setting is that of a small town.

Façade (south) – looking north
21. (cont.) History and significance. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
This two-story building was constructed 1931. The construction date was confirmed by an article in the local newspaper stating the Slack Building was being constructed on Front St. and would house Graber’s. In addition, the historic photographs in Through the Years: A Pictorial History of Sikeston, Missouri confirms the location of Garber’s. According to the 1955 city directory, Garber’s Store was located in the building and would continue to be at this location for several decades. Due to the modern alterations of the façade including the stucco clad wall surface and replacement window on the second level the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

This building was constructed c. 1948 to house Sikes Hardware Store, formally located at 118 E. Center St. Sikes Hardware was established in March 1928 by A.C. Sikes when he purchased the Baker-Bowman Hardware Company and changed the name to Sikes Hardware. By 1962, according to a city directory, Grabers had expanded into this location (located at 106 E. Front). The façade has been remodeled and is clad in stucco. The original storefront on the first level has been replaced c. 1970s and an entrance door to the west has been added. The second level retains the original layout but appears to have a replacement window frame. Modern alterations to the façade including a replaced storefront on the first level and the stucco clad wall surface have comprised the integrity of the building. The building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

This is a two-story building clad in stucco with a centered recessed glass/metal double entrance with transom flanked by glass/metal display windows. A solid panel modern door is located at the far west section of the façade. A flat roof canopy runs the width of the façade. The second level has a centered early or original three-light glass/metal display window flanked by early or original four-light narrow windows. The window frame on upper level display appears to be replacement.

<td>This building was constructed c. 1915 according to the tax assessment record. The building is depicted on the 1919 Sanborn map and housed a drug store and dry goods/clothing store. An advertisement in the local paper in 1938 states Bowman's Rexall Drug occupied the building. According to the 1943 Sanborn map the building carried the address of 114-116 E. Front St. F. W. Woolworths Co. ran several advertisements (various dates) in the local paper with the store's location on E. Front St., but a physical address was not provided. While it is not certain Woolworth Store was located in this building in the 1930s, it is a possibility. Woolworth's would occupy the building for several decades and expand into 118-120 E. Main by 1962 as shown in a city directory. Currently, the building houses Paul's Christian Book Store. The upper level of building has been metal slipped c. 1980s. Modern alterations to the façade including a replace storefront on the first level and a metal slip cover on the upper level have comprised the integrity of the building. Due to the modern alterations (metal slip cover and newer storefront) of the façade the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked &quot;not eligible&quot;.</td>

This building was constructed c. 1915 according to tax assessment records. The 1919 Sanborn map depicts the building with a barber shop and a hardware store housed in the building. According to the 1943 Sanborn map, the building carried the address of 118-120 E. Front Street. In 1928, Sikes Hardware purchased the building from Baker-Bowman Hardware Company. It is possible Baker-Bowman Hardware Company was the hardware company depicted on the 1919 Sanborn map. In 1936, Sikes Hardware remodeled the building and installed a new glass storefront and expanded the building taking over the space at 120 occupied by Graham Barber Shop. Sikes Hardware continued to occupy the building until 1948 when they constructed a new building at 110 E. Front to house the hardware business. At that time, another hardware store took over the location. By 1962, Woolworth would expand into the building. The 1955 city directory does not show a listing for the building. In 1980 Falkoff’s Men’s Shop moved to this building and continued in operation until recently. Falkoff’s Men’s Shop was established in Sikeston in 1966 and originally was established in East Prairie in 1899. The upper level of building has been metal slipped c. 1980s. Modern alterations to the façade, including a replace storefront on the first level and a metal slip cover on the upper level, have comprised the integrity of the building. Due to the modern alterations of the façade, the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston. The property fronts E. Front (a brick paved street) to the south. A paved alleyway bounds the property to the north. The building is bounded to the east and west by a two-story building. On street parking is located on the north and south sides of E. Front Street. Legion Park is located to the south across E. Front Street. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a two-story building with a rectangular footprint and flat roof. The façade features a recessed glass/metal entrance flanked by glass/metal display windows. A full-width brown metal awning covers the first level. The second level had been metal slipped c. 1980s.

<td>This property was constructed c. 1940 +/- according to the tax assessment record. The estimated date of construction can be concluded from data supplied by the 1943 Sanborn map which depicted two different buildings located on this lot indicating the building was constructed after 1943. Prior to 1948, the Buckner-Ragsdale advertisements in the local paper listed its location in the Milem building then by 1948 the location for Buckner-Ragsdale was listed as the Buckner-Ragsdale Building. A 1955 and 1962 city directory list Buckner-Ragsdale Store located in the building. Also located in part of the building in 1955 were the Crown Finance Corp., Reliable Life Ins. Co., and Mutual Benefit Health &amp; Accident Assn. Buckner-Ragsdale was a chain clothing store with eight locations in Missouri. Modern alterations to the façade including what appears to be a replace storefront on the first level and slip cover on the upper level has comprised the integrity of the building. Due to the modern alterations of the façade of the replacement storefront and upper level slip cover the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked &quot;not eligible&quot;.</td>

21. (cont.) History and significance. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
This building was constructed c. 1927. C.H. Yanson Jewelry was an original or early occupant of the building and would continue to occupy the building for several decades. An advertisement in the local paper in 1936 stated C.H. Yanson Jewelry had been in business for 35 years. It is likely he constructed this building to house his shop. The 1955 and 1962 city directory list Yanson Jewelry store at this location. The building is currently occupied by Blooming Deals Consignment Shop. Due to the replacement storefront and the metal slip cover the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The building is situated in downtown Sikeston and fronts E. Front (a brick paved street) to the south. A paved alleyway bounds the property to the north. It is bounded to the west by a two-story building and a one-story building to the east. On street parking is located on the north and south sides of E. Front Street. Legion Park is located to the southwest across E. Front Street. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a one-story brick building clad in silver metal slip cover on the façade. It features a centered glass/metal recessed entrance flanked by glass/metal display windows with Roman brick bulkheads. The storefront appears to be a 1960s or 1970s replacement.

Kirby’s Café was located in this building prior to 1939, approximately established in this location in 1919. Kirby’s was established by Vodrel (Red) Kirby. It would relocate to Hwy 60 & 61 in September 1939, but later would reopen in this location in 1944. The City Drug Store owned by Louie Largent and W.W. Crites opened for business on June 19, 1939 at this location according to a store ad that ran in the local paper on June 8, 1939. However, another story that ran in October 1939 stated the address as 138 E. Front, but the address appears to be a typo and should have read 136 E. Front, as an advertisement for the City Drug Store dated July 13, 1939 states the location as the Kirby Building. By 1948, Tope’s Bar occupied the building and Kirby’s relocated to N. Kingshighway. In 1955, K & W Grill was located in the building. According to the 1962 city directory, Roscoe’s Grill occupied the building. Due to the replacement storefront and the metal slip cover the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked “not eligible”.

This is a one-story building with a rectangular footprint and a flat roof. The façade features a remodeled 1970s or 1980s glass/metal storefront. A glass/metal entrance door with sidelights is flanked to the right by a glass/metal display window with a Roman brick bulkhead flanked by columns clad in metal siding. The glass door and windows have security bars. A full-width wood shingle canopy runs the width of the bays. The upper level façade is clad in green enamel panels with a large sign centered stating “Bo’s Jewelry and Pawn.”

Other: Could be individually eligible. But further documentation will be needed for Crit. A: Commerce (why is this property more significant commercially than its neighbors?). The best bet may be Crit. C: Architecture but the replacement storefronts may pose an issue. Criterion A: Commerce would apply to a potential district nomination (vs. individual).

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

The building was constructed c. 1927 as it is depicted on the 1927 Sanborn map. In 1944, Leek Hardware was located in the building but would be renamed to Parker Hardware by April 1945. By July 1945, the name would change again to C&S Hardware. A.M. Jackson Hardware would be located in the building by December 1948. Located upstairs in 1950 was J. L. Voelker Watch Repair. The first level storefront appears to be a 1960s or 1970s replacement. If early or original windows are intact on the second level, the building may be eligible under Criterion A (Commerce), or Criterion C (Architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district.

This is a two-story brick building, rectangular in shape with a flat roof and a stepped parapet roofline. The façade holds a centered glass/metal two-light display window with transoms and a Roman brick bulkhead flanked by recessed entrances. Centered entrance doors with transoms are flanked by display windows with transoms. Above the bays is a course of brick headers that runs the width of the bays. The second level windows are covered by a large rectangular sign stating “White Elephant.” The sign prevents accurate documentation of the windows and their openings. The stepped parapet roof line features two end brick columns capped in cement with stepped down and two smaller columns capped in brick. Centered in the parapet roof line are two wider brick columns capped in cement with a small column capped in cement in the center. The east elevation has four 8/1 windows and four window openings infilled with brick. A historic photograph (c. 1950s) depicts windows were 3/1 and the four window openings were infilled. Compared to other buildings downtown, this one is remarkably intact. It may be individually eligible, although more research will be needed to assess the area of significance.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

This one-story brick building was constructed c. 1936 after a fire destroyed the previous building that occupied this lot. Located in the building from 1948-1998 was Mac’s Barber Shop. The building retains its architectural elements and integrity. The building effectively conveys architectural and commercial significance. It is potentially National Register eligible as part of a historic district and locally significant under Criterion C, Architecture for its Late 19th and 20th Century American Movements: Commercial Style and Criterion A, Commerce.

The building is located in downtown Sikeston, MO. This one-story brick building is located on the northwest corner of E. Front St (a brick street) and N. Kingshighway/Bus 61 (a brick street). The setting is that of a small town. Located to the west is a large two-story brick building and to the north a one-story brick building. Across the street on E. Front is a one-story modern building. Commercial buildings are located to the east across N. Kingshighway.

This one-story brick building features a chamfered entrance located at the southeast corner. A black cloth awning projects out over the entrance. The south elevation features a metal door at the west corner flanked by a large single pane window. The east elevation features double-hung 9/9 ribbon windows. The roof line has a concrete coping with a raked coping over the entrance and on the south elevation. The west elevation abuts a two-story brick building.

This property was originally constructed as two separate buildings with addresses 114 (c. 1945) and 116 (c. 1960) W. Front St. They have been joined together through the interior (date unknown) to house Tradewinds Trading Post. Since this property was originally two separate buildings, history will be given as such. According to the 1927 and 1943 Sanborn maps there were two buildings located on this lot but measurements provided on each building’s footprint indicates the buildings are not the current buildings located at 114-116 W. Front St. when compared to current tax assessment record. In 1962, the city directory list Myra’s Shoppe at 114 W. Front and Miller’s Office Equipment Co. at 116 W. Front Street. The display windows and doors on each building appear to be 1960s or 1970s style. This property retains enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area has been too altered to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked “not eligible”.

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO and fronts W. Front St. (a brick paved street) and is bounded by said street to the south. The building is bounded to the north by alleyway with vacant lot beyond. A grassy lot bounds property to the east and west, with the west lot having a black iron decorative fence running width of the lot and delineating it from the sidewalk. The setting is that of a small town.

116 W. Front St. - A one-story Roman brick clad building, rectangular in shape with a flat roof. The façade has large glass/metal display windows and an entrance door. A flat roof awning extends out from the building providing coverage for the entrance.
114 W. Front St. – A one-story modern style brick building, rectangular footprint, flat roof and a recessed entrance. The façade has a glass display window on west wall of the recessed entrance. A glass/metal entrance door is flanked to east by glass/metal display windows. A black cloth awning runs the width of the bay. Located in the center of façade above the bay is a concrete panel flanked by a brick wall surface. Centered in the concrete panel is a business sign.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

21. (cont.) History and significance. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.

This one-story concrete block building with some asbestos siding was constructed c. 1950 according to the tax assessment record. The 1947 Sanborn map indicates another building was located on this lot prior. In 1962, according to the city directory, the LePetite Shop was located in this building. The building appears to have experienced modern alterations to the front portion of the roof with the installation of a high hip roof. The façade has a modern brick recessed entrance on the east corner and a modern window on the west section. A triangle shape vent is located on front sloping roof. Also located on the front sloping roof is a large flower for decoration. Modern alterations to the façade including a new storefront, and change of roofline have comprised the integrity of the building. The building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

This building was constructed c. 1927 as indicated on 1927 Sanborn map and was occupied by an auto sales and services business. The Sikeston Grocery Company was housed in the building c. 1936 and in 1937 erected a 40' x 36' addition to the rear (north) of the building. The company was operated by P.A. and Lee McDougal. A 1962 city directory list Goodwill Industries at this location and a 1958 article in the Sikeston Herald stated Goodwill Industries had recently opened up a store in Sikeston. Originally the building featured a boomtown roof line. The façade held a centered recessed entrance flanked by large two-light display windows. The entrance was covered by a projecting flat roof awning supported by two brackets on the east and west of the roof and anchored into the façade. Centered and inset in the upper façade wall surface was “Sikeston Grocery Co.” The west elevation featured 1/1 windows and an entrance. The building has undergone recent renovations (date unknown) and the original architectural elements have not been retained. The façade has been covered in dryvit and modern windows have been installed. Modern alterations to the façade include a replace storefront, dryvit clad wall surface, modern windows. No original architectural elements have been retained. Due to the modern alterations mention above the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

This is a one-story brick building with its façade wall surface clad in dryvit. The building has a rectangular footprint and foot. The façade has a centered modern glass/metal entrance door with side lights and flanked on each side by two arched multi-light modern windows.

The Midwest Diary Company constructed this one-story building c. 1937 as an addition to the company’s manufacturing building located at 132. W. Front St., to house their beer business and to act as a warehouse. Prior to the construction of the building, Midwest Dairy Co. had established a beer business in addition to their dairy business. According to an article in the 1936 local paper, the liquor permit of Midwest Dairy Corporation was revoked after the company violated their 5 per cent wholesale beer permit by selling beer to 3.2 percent dealers. The permit was restored by April 23, 1936. Originally, the façade featured a garage bay with a multi-light and paneled door flanked to the east by a display window. No original elements have been retained. It is not known when the original storefront was removed. The storefront is modern in design with a glass/metal entrance and large display windows. The tax assessment record indicates renovations were done to the building in 2008. The removal of the storefront and original architectural elements has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO. The property fronts W. Front St. (a brick paved street) to the south and is bounded by said street to the south. The building is bounded to the west by a two-story brick building and a one-story brick building to the east. A paved alleyway bounds the property to the north. A paved parking area is located on the either side of W. Front St. The setting is that of a small town.

This is one-story brick building constructed c. 1935 with a rectangular footprint and a flat roof. The brick wall surface has been painted a light brown. The façade has a modern/glass entrance door flanked to the east by six-light display window. The roof line features a tile coping. Located below the roofline is a painted dark brown rectangular design with a painted diamond in the center.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

21. (cont.) History and significance. This property was constructed c. 1923 to house the Hebbler Ice Cream Co. on the first level with apartments on the second level. The Hebbler Ice Cream Co. was a family business operated by Edward Hebbler and his sons, Harold and Charles. Hebbler sold the business to Midwest Corporation (Midwest Diary) around 1927. By 1962, the Armstrong Home Appliance and Furniture was located in the building. Originally, the façade featured a centered entrance flanked by double-paired 1/1 windows with multi-light transoms. The west elevation on the first level held four double-paired windows and an entrance. The building underwent renovations in 2008. The first level storefront has been replaced with a new modern storefront. On the west elevation at the south section of the building, two of the double-paired windows have been removed and infilled with brick. Additionally, a window has been boarded over (date unknown). The removal of the storefront has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO on the northeast corner of W. Front and N. Scott Streets. The property fronts (south) W. Front St. (a brick paved street) and is bounded by said street to the south. The building is bounded to the west by N. Scott Street and a one-story brick building to the east. A paved alleyway bounds the property to the north. A paved parking area is located on the either side of W. Front St. The setting is that of a small town.

41. (cont.) Further description of important architectural features. This is a two-story brick building with a rectangular footprint and a flat roof. The façade has a new white trimmed storefront on the first level (2008) and features a centered glass/metal entrance door flanked by modern two-light display windows with transoms. The second level of the façade features original or early 3/1 double windows located above the display windows. The west elevation first level from south to north features a brick enclosed bay or large window; boarded window; window; and entrance door. The second level has four double-paired windows and one single window. An original or early white framed addition with small windows is located on the northwest corner second level and wraps to the north elevation.

<td>This one-story building was constructed c. 1947 and housed a filling station according to the 1947 Sanborn map and remodeled extensively in 1961. The original building was one-story with a centered gable with a stepped façade. The building features 4/1 windows on the east and south façades. The building was later purchased by Kirby’s Sandwich Shop and later expanded to the south and east in 1961. The 1961 alteration has changed the building significantly. Due to the expansion (c. 1961), the property does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked “not eligible”.</td>

<td>The building is located in downtown Sikeston, MO. This one-story brick building fronts N. Kingshighway/Bus. 61 (a brick street) with an alleyway along the north elevation. The setting is that of a small town. A concrete sidewalk runs in front of the building. Located to the northwest across from the alleyway is a paved parking lot with commercial buildings beyond on the block behind on E. Front and E. Center Street. A large two-story brick building (138 E. Front) is located directly behind the building and runs the length of the building. To the east are commercial buildings and a paved parking lot.</td>

<td>This one-story irregular shaped brick building has a sawtooth hipped (four) roof. The façade features nine bays and is divided into two separate businesses. The building has four distinct sections delineated by each of the four hipped roof segments. The southern most sections has a metal/glass door flanked on the north by a large three –light window. The next section to the north, features a large three-light window and a metal/glass door. The third section has a metal/glass door and a smaller single light window. The fourth section is the largest and runs to the north corner of the building. It has three bays with the center bay housing a glass/metal door flanked by two-light windows. The north elevation has a single pane window and a door. Originally the building did not extend to the building located at 142 E. Front Street and the south section did not extend as far out to the sidewalk. It was later expanded (c.1961) to the current footprint and the original front facing gable roofline was changed. The original 4/1 windows were replaced with the current windows.</td>

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

 Constructed c. 1918, this two-story brick building originally housed three businesses; a music store, a second hand furniture store and a printing business with apartments on the second level. Throughout the years, the building has housed various commercial businesses. The building retains its architectural elements and integrity and effectively conveys architectural and commercial significance. It is potentially National Register eligible as part of a historic district and locally significant under Criterion C, Architecture for its Late 19th and 20th Century American Movements: Commercial Style and Criterion A, Commerce.

22. (cont.) Sources of information. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO, fronting N. Kingshighway/Bus 61 (a brick street). Setting is that of a small town. The building faces west on N. Kingshighway with a building abutting it on the north elevation and a large paved parking lot on the south elevation; commercial buildings are located across the street. Street parking is located in front of the building.

This brick two-part commercial block building is two stories in height, with a rectangular footprint. The façade features four bays on the first level. A full height glass/metal showcase window and door with transom (boarded over) is located at each end (north and south) of the façade with a single door (boarded transoms) located on the inside of each bay for access to the apartments above. Located in the center of the façade between the single doors is another full height glass/metal showcase window with a door and boarded transom. The second level of the façade has three tripled paired 3/1 windows and a stepped roof line. The south elevation on the second level has five double paired windows and one single window. The north elevation is joined to a one-story brick building with windows on the second level.

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO, fronting N. Kingshighway/Bus 61 (a brick street). Setting is that of a small town. The building faces west on N. Kingshighway with a two-story brick building abutting it on the north and south elevation; commercial buildings are located across the street. Street parking is located in front of the building.

A one-story brick building with a rectangular footprint. The façade features four bays; the north and south sections have glass/metal showcase windows with replacement brick bulkheads. Two glass and metal doors are centered in the façade. A cloth awning runs along the width of the bays. The area above the awning features a decorative brick pattern. The cornice is raked in the center, creating a low pitched pediment flanked by piers. The building is flanked by two-story brick buildings on the north and south elevation.

21. History and significance. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The construction date of this building is c. 1935 as determined by the 1927 and 1943 Sanborn maps and tax assessments. According to the 1943 Sanborn map the building was occupied by a business. On August 2, 1945, the Sikeston Herald, announced John Albritton had purchased a lot on E. Center St. in the area across from city hall (118 E. Center St.) with speculation Albritton would erect a building to house his funeral home business. An advertisement for Albritton Funeral Home from the December 24, 1953 Sikeston Herald provides the business address as 203 N. Kingshighway. Due to lack of written documentation, it has not been determined at this time when Albritton first occupied the building located at 203 N. Kingshighway. The building has been altered; date unknown. This one and one-half story Craftsman bungalow is vinyl clad, but retains its original or early Craftsman style 4/1 windows. Façade as been extended to the north and south. A one car garage was constructed to the north corner of façade (date unknown) and a small vinyl clad addition with a door and a shed roof has been constructed to the south corner of the façade (date unknown). The two additions to the east and west façade, enclosed porch and vinyl siding, has compromised the integrity of the building, which does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

40. Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
Building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO. The building fronts N. Kingshighway to the east and is bounded by a concrete paved parking lot to the west. The property is bounded to the north by a paved alleyway with the Sikeston Public Library north of the alleyway and is bounded to the south by a concrete paved parking lot. The surrounding area is comprised of commercial style buildings. The setting is that of a small town.

41. Further description of important architectural features. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
This is a one and one-half story Craftsman style bungalow clad in vinyl siding with a side gable roof with wide overhanging eaves with exposed brackets. The full-width porch (façade) has been enclosed (date unknown), but according to the 1943 Sanborn map was originally an open full-width porch. The façade features a centered door flanked by three-paired 4/1 Craftsman style windows. The façade has been extended to the north and south. A one car garage was constructed to the north corner of façade (date unknown) and a small vinyl clad addition with a door and a shed roof has been constructed to the south corner of the façade (date unknown). The south elevation is asymmetrical on the first level and features a gable end with Craftsman style 4/1 windows. A brick chimney is located on the front slope of the roof on the south elevation.

21. (cont.) History and significance. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.

The building is located in downtown Sikeston, MO. This one-story dryvit clad building is modern in design. Due to the property's construction date, and its lack of historical associations, the building does not appear eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Constructed c. 1930 (tax assessment record) this brick building had a building that abutted it to the west but was later razed (date unknown). In 2006 (tax assessment record) the building underwent renovations, giving the building a more modern design. The brick corner of the northwest elevation can been see in a historic photograph in the book Through the Years: A Pictorial History of Sikeston, Missouri. According to the 1962 city directory, Sikeston Frozen Food Locker occupied the building. Due to the property's modern alterations (modernization of the façade and replacement of the windows) the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is located in downtown Sikeston, MO. It fronts E. Malone Avenue and is surrounded by a gravel parking lot. The setting is that of a small town. Located to the west is N. Kingshighway/Bus 61 (a brick street) and to the north is a large two-story brick building.

This two-story modern brick building was constructed c. 1930 with a rectangular footprint and flat roof. The façade features three bays; a centered metal/glass door flanked by large windows that have been mostly bricked around two tall and slender windows. A curved open metal awning with metal bands rests above the entrance. It likely is the frame for a cloth awning. The second level has three 1/1 modern windows.

Level of survey
☐ reconnaissance  ☑ intensive

National Register Status:
☐ listed  ☐ in listed district

Name:
☐ pending listing  ☑ eligible (individually)
☑ eligible (district)  ☐ not eligible

Other: While the park is likely not individually eligible it could contribute to a district (commercial) if one should exist. In the future if the buildings on E. Front removed the metal slip covers and the original facades were still intact, the area should be re-evaluated to determine if there is a potential district. Depending on the age, several of the structures mentioned could be contributing or noncontributing elements if the park is later determined eligible.

Description: Legion Park - looking west.
According to the 1919 Sanborn maps, the park location was unoccupied lots but by the 1927 Sanborn map, the park had been established. It serves as a public recreational area for the community. It is undetermined if the park is eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district under Criterion A (history).

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The park is located in downtown Sikeston, MO adjacent to the town square. The setting is that of a small town. It is bounded on the north by E. Front St. to the south by Malone Avenue and the west by New Madrid. Located to the east is a concrete paved parking lot and a one-story modern building. Located to the north are historic buildings fronting E. Front St.

Legion Park is a public green space that has a concrete paved center with four sidewalks extending from it to the edge of park to connect with a sidewalk that surrounds the park. Located within the park are 11 benches, picnic tables, a water fountain, a flag pole, a large granite veterans’ monument and various trees.

| Constructed c. 1920, the property has housed various commercial businesses over the years. The modern alterations of the 1970s storefront replacement and the covered transoms has compromised the integrity of the building and does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible". |

| This is a one-story brick building constructed c. 1920, with a flat roof and a rectangular footprint. The façade features three bays. The center bay is a large showcase metal/glass window with three 1/1 windows with covered transoms. This bay is flanked by large showcase metal/glass windows with a 1/1 with glass/metal entrance door. The cornice line has an asphalt covered shingle overhang (almost a false mansard) flanked by brick piers. According to the tax assessment record, the property was remodeled in the 1970s. |

The depot was constructed in 1916-1917 at a cost of $13,378.00. The depot played a significant role in the Sikeston community related to rail-way transportation from 1917 to 1985, when it was closed due to the modernization of the railroad. Upon its closure, a group of concerns citizens pulled together and established the Sikeston Cultural Development Corporation to purchase the depot and surrounding lot. The depot was converted to a museum to exhibit local history, cultural and art.
The depot was listed in the National Register in 2000 and is architecturally significant for its design; standardized railroad depot. The depot also exhibits characteristics of the Prairie style with its low hipped roof with wide over hanging eaves that emphasize the horizontality of the building. The depot has experience some alterations prior to 1950 when the pavilions were enclosed to make more room and the windows were enclosed.

This is a one-story building was constructed c. 1909 to house the Bank of Sikeston. The building was originally designed in the Romanesque Revival style. The façade featured a brick and stone wall surface with a centered entrance with a Richardsonian style arch with brick and stone visors flanked by double-paired 1/1 windows with transoms. In the upper level of façade, near the roofline, centered above the entrance arch, was the "Bank of Sikeston" carved in stone flanked by arch ribbon windows. In the summer of 1935 the Kent Shoe Store purchased the building and commissioned J.A. Sutterfield to remodel the façade to the more modernistic style of Art Deco. The entire façade was removed. The new remodeled façade featured cararra glass panels from the ground level to the roofline. The façade had a recessed centered entrance with cararra glass transom flanked by etched columns with silver Art Deco style designs flanked by large display windows with cararra glass transoms. The cornice line featured a full-width chevron design. Kent Shoes held an open house on January 30, 1936 and officially opened for business. In March 1937, Kent Shoes was purchased by P. J. North of St. Louis and renamed to Norton Shoe Store. According to the 1962 city directory the building was still occupied by Norton’s Shoe Store. The display windows appear to be 1960s or 1970s replacement and the façade has been covered in stucco. Windows on the south elevation has been infilled with siding. The removal of the storefront and original architectural elements has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO and fronts (east) N. New Madrid St. (a brick paved street). The property is bounded to the north by a one-story brick building and to the south by a paved alleyway. It is bounded to the east by N. New Madrid St. and to the west by a vacant lot. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a one-story brick building with its façade clad in stucco. It has a rectangular footprint and a low boomtown roofline. The façade has a recessed entrance with a glass/metal doors flanked by glass/metal display windows with a brick bulkhead. The door and display windows appear to be 1960s or 1970s replacement. A green metal awning projects out covering the bay area of the façade with metal poles attached to the upper level of the façade. The south elevation has three small windows that have been infilled and an entrance door with infill above. The roofline of the south elevation has decorative brick corbelling.

<td>This one-story brick building was built c. 1927 as deduced from the 1919, 1927 and 1943 Sanborn maps. The 1919 Sanborn map depicts different but similar footprints for a building located on this property lot. The 1927 and 1943 Sanborn maps depict the same footprint. While a historic photograph in Through the Years: A Pictorial History of Sikeston Missouri shows a slightly different façade on the building, it could be the façade was renovated after the photograph was taken (date unknown). Another historic photograph c. 1950 illustrates the current façade and the building housed a barber shop. According to the 1962 city directory, Wright’s Jewelry Store occupied 125 N. New Madrid (south section of building) and Model Barber Shop occupied the north section (127 N. New Madrid). The display windows on the façade appear to be 1960 or 1970s replacement. Currently, the building is occupied by Lambert Engineering and Surveying (125) and Antonio’s, a hair salon (127). This property may retain enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area has been too altered to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked &quot;not eligible&quot;.</td>

<td>This is a one-story brick building (c.1940) with a rectangular footprint and a flat roof. It is divided into two separate sections providing two business spaces and has two addresses (125 and 127 N. New Madrid). A brick column separates the two bays. The north section of the façade (127) features an umbrage entrance with sidelights and an early or original entrance door flanked by display windows. The transoms and bulkheads have been covered over with painted plywood. The south section of the façade (125) features a recessed entry position at an angle with the deepest section in the south corner. The recessed entrance has a glass/metal door flanked by large glass/metal display window to the north and a small glass/metal window on the south. The display windows have a Roman style brick bulkhead. A brick header stringcourse is located above the bays with a solid brick wall surface above.</td>

The modern alterations of the 1960s or 1970s storefront replacement with the metal slip cover has compromised the integrity of the building. It not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

This property was built c. 1909-1910 to house People's Bank. People's Bank was formed on August 9, 1909 and established with the initial capital of $50,000. Until the building was constructed, the bank was temporary located in the McCoy-Tanner building located on the southeast corner of New Madrid and E. Center Streets. By 1920, the banks assets had grown close to $400,000. In November 1928, Statements of Condition published by People’s Bank showed a lost of around half of their total assets. Then on December 5, 1928 a notice was placed on the closed doors of the bank stating: “This bank is being closed by order of the Board of Directors.” On December 6, 1928, a second notice was hung on the doors “This bank is in the hands of the State Finance department. Signed, C.V. Estes, State Bank Examiner.” It was later published in the Sikeston Standard the bank did not succeed due to bad loans. The People’s Bank of Sikeston was not the only bank to close in 1928, 31 other banks besides People's Bank had been closed in Missouri. After the closure of People’s Bank, the Sikeston Board of Public Works would occupy the building for many years. Currently the building is occupied by the American Cancer Society.

The removal of the original windows and transoms on the first level, as well as, the dryvit has compromised the integrity of the building. It does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO on the northwest corner of New Madrid and W. Center Streets (brick paved streets) and fronts New Madrid St. to the east. The building is bounded to the north and west by two-story buildings. It is bounded to the south by W. Center St. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a two-story brick building with a flat roof and rectangular footprint that has undergone recent renovations. The first level on the façade and south elevation originally had 1/1 windows with multi-light lattice transoms. Original windows have been replaced with modern single pane windows and dryvit with a small light fixture installed in the transom openings. The original stoop entrance featured a stone pediment surround with iron pilasters and double wood/glass doors. The renovated façade features a centered modern glass/metal entrance with sidelights (stone pediment surround has been removed) flanked by single pane windows and dryvit above. The second level features three-paired windows flanked by brick Ionic pilasters and 1/1 windows. The windows have stone segmental lintels with keystones. Located above the windows and pilasters is a decorative stone entablature with a leaf ornamentation design. The entablature wraps around to the south elevation and runs the length of the property. The entablature and lintels have been painted. A projecting cornice line with brackets runs the width of the façade and wraps around and runs length of the south elevation. The south elevation on the first level features from east to west, five two-light display windows with dryvit infill in transom space. Then a pediment entrance with modern glass/metal door with side lights and dryvit infilled transom area flanked by a three-paired window with dryvit infill in transom space. The second level has five double 1/1 windows with stone segmental lintels with keystones and one three-paired window on the west end. Each window is separated by two-story Ionic brick pilaster.

This building was constructed c. 1919 and housed a grocery store (south section) and a millinery shop (north section) according to 1910 and 1919 Sanborn maps. According to the 1962 city directory the building was occupied by Sam's Outlet. The façade of the building is clad in dryvit (c. 1991) and features modern windows and doors. A historic photo depicts the building originally had a brick façade with a centered entrance for the apartments on the second level flanked by display windows and entrances for each business located in the building. The upper level windows were 6/1. The removal of the original storefront, loss of architectural elements, as well as the dryvit clad wall surface has resulted in the loss of integrity. The building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

This is a two-story brick building with its façade clad in dryvit. The façade has a centered glass/metal modern entrance with sidelights flanked by modern display windows with a modern style door on the south corner and a modern style window on the north corner. The second level two modern 1/1 windows. Located between the first and second level is decorative dryvit detailing of a small rectangular shape design flanked by larger rectangular shaped designs. The second level is outlined in dryvit detailing and around the windows.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

This building was constructed c. 1955 to house the Sikes Sporting Goods and Toys store. At one time, half of the building was occupied by Sears (date unknown). Building has been continually owned by the Sikes family. According to the Sikes family, Boyer was the building contractor (first name not provided). Currently the building houses Sikes Sporting Goods. The building retains original or early display windows and entrance doors. A full-width projecting roofline covers the entrance and has a modern metal roof. This property may retain enough of its historic elements to contribute to a historic district should one exist but the surrounding neighborhood/area has been too altered to be designated as a historic district. The property does not appear to convey enough significance to be individually eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

This is a one-story brick commercial building with a flat roof. The façade features two bays that are slight recessed. The north bay has a centered glass/metal entrance door with transom flanked by a large display window to the north and a large 3-light display window to the south. The south bay holds a centered glass/metal entrance door with transom flanked by large display window to the north and south. A full-width projecting roof covers the entrance and has a modern metal roof covering.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

21. (cont.) History and significance. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.

This building was constructed c. 1932 to house a U.S. Post Office. The architect was James Alphonso Wetmore and the builder was M. W. Mvir. Wetmore was born in 1863 in Bath, New York. He was employed as a court reporter in Hornell, N.Y. By 1883, he was a cattle purchaser in Scotland and Holland. Then approximately in 1885, he became a stenographer with the Treasury Department in Washington, D.C. In 1915, Oscar Wenderoth, the Supervising Architect, retired and Wetmore agreed to fill the position on a temporary basis and asked to be given the title Acting Supervising Architect since he was not an architect. Wetmore served as the Acting Supervising Architect of the Treasury’s Department from 1915-1934. By 1934, Wetmore’s name could be seen on over 2,000 Federal cornerstones. The Sikeston Post Office continued to occupy the building until approximately 1965 when a new post office was erected one block east on E. North St. The administrated offices for the City of Sikeston relocated to the building after it was vacated by the postal service. The building is currently occupied by the Sikeston Department of Public Safety. The original 12/12 windows have been replaced with 1/1 windows and vinyl infilled at top of the window opening (date unknown). The removal of the original windows and alteration of the original window openings has compromised the integrity of the building and it does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked “not eligible”.

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO on the southwest corner of New Madrid and W. North Streets and fronts New Madrid Street (a brick paved street) to the east. It is bounded to the north by W. North St. and to the east by New Madrid St. It is bounded to the west by a paved parking lot that services the building and a small parking area to the south with a paved alleyway just beyond. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a one and one-half story brick Colonial Revival style commercial building with a truncated hipped roof and rectangular footprint. The façade has a centered stoop entrance with double glass/metal doors flanked by two 1/1 replacement windows with stone lintels. The windows openings have been shortened and infilled at the top with vinyl siding. The original windows were 12/12. The entered entrance has a stone surround with an open pediment with pilasters. An elliptical fan light is located above the entrance doors. The roofline on the first level features a stone and brick spindle balustrade deck. The slope of the hip roof features slightly arched dormers with 1/1 windows.

<td>This building was constructed in 1965 to house the United States Post Office. Due to little written documentation found at this time, the history of the building is limited. Because of the construction date of the building, it does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. <td>The building was constructed c. 1965 to house the United States Post Office. The one-story brick and concrete block panel building is modern in design with a flat roof. The façade holds seven bays. Fenestration from east to west: triple-paired 1/1 windows; five 1/1 windows separated by brick with a flat roof awning over windows; large concrete block panels with the words &quot;United States Post Office Sikeston Missouri 63801 is attached to panels; a glass/metal door with transom flanked by 2-light sidelight with transom flanked by glass/metal with transom covered by a flat projecting roof. A concrete handicap accessible ramp runs east-west and gives access to the east door. The west elevation is inset at the south corner and features concrete block panels with five 1/1 windows separated by bricks. The rest of the west elevation has eight 1/1 windows; brick work above and below windows indicate alterations have occurred. Due to residential property on the east and south elevation, further documentation could not be done.</td>

A special bond issue of $20,000 was passed on May 18, 1937 by Sikeston voters for the erection of a new building to house a public library. The property lot for the new building had previously been acquired with funds raised by the Woman’s Club of Sikeston through the proceeds of a cookbook sale. The lot at the southwest corner of N. Kingshighway and E. North St. was purchased for $700 from J.L. Tanner. A Works Progress Administration grant for $10,000 was awarded for the construction of the library. J. Hal Lynch, architect, was commissioned to design the building and J.A. Sutterfield served as foreman of the project. The WPA started construction on Oct. 1, 1937. Dedication of the library was held Dec. 5, 1938. Upon completion the library building measured 50' x 50'. Located on the main level was the library room with a fireplace and a children’s room. The basement featured an auditorium with stage, dressing room, mending room, kitchenette, boiler room, and coal room. Margaret Blair Law was hired as the first librarian in the new building. A piano for the auditorium was donated by the Music Club; a wall clock was donated by the Jewish community; and Junior Woman’s Club furnished the Children’s room. The building was expanded to the west c. 1950, then a much larger addition was added to the west 1994-1995. Originally, the library was addressed 210 N. Kingshighway. Historically, the main entrance to the library fronted N. Kingshighway. The main entrance is now located on the north elevation. Due to its modern alteration of a large one-story brick addition (1994-1995) the building does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked “not eligible”.

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO on the southwest corner of N. Kingshighway and E. North Street. The property is bounded to the south by a paved alleyway and to the north by E. North St. A paved parking lot bounds the property to the west and N. Kingshighway to the east. Located to the front of the north elevation is a paved parking lot. The setting is that of a small town.

The original building c. 1938 is a one-story brick building designed in the Colonial Revival style with a side gable roof that fronts N. Kingshighway to the east. The original full-width porch with upper balustrade has been removed and now has a centered open porch. The façade features seven bays; a centered entrance (modern replacement door) with sidelights and elliptical fan light transom flanked by multi-light double and single casement windows. The original roofline featured a return cornice with dentils but it has since been altered (date unknown) and the returns were removed. Large brick chimneys are located in the gable ends. The north and south elevations have centered chimneys flanked by multi-light windows (6/6 south; 12/12 north). The building was expanded to the west (c. 1950) and an arched top dormer with multi-lights is located on the north slope roof line of the addition. In 1994-1995, the building was expanded to the west again and the main entrance to the building was relocated on the north elevation of the addition fronting E. North Street. The c. 1995 addition features a main section and wing. The main section has a centered gable roofline connected to the 1950s addition and features a full-with open porch with a multi-light circular window in the pediment. The wing section of the 1995 addition features a front facing gable. The building runs north-south and the gable end matches in style to the original 1938 gable end facing E. North street.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Leonard John McMullin, farmer and investor, constructed this Colonial Revival style dwelling c. 1916 and moved into it by 1917. McMullin built the house for his wife Warde Matthews (married 1914). The McMullin family would entertain in the house on a regular basis and would often take their party across the street to Malone Park. McMullin is said to have become the first licensed commercial pilot in Missouri. He would often use farm land nearby as his landing strip. McMullin became involved in many financial investments with his father-in-law A.J. Matthew’s. But one of the investments, the draining of the swamp land in the Sikeston region, led to financial misfortune in the 1920s. The Great Depression only compounded his financial problems and McMullin was forced to sell his home (date unknown). The home was purchased by Lyman Russell Bowman, vice president and general manager of the Scott County Milling Company. Known as the largest milling company in the Midwest, Lyman started in the milling business at the age of 16 in 1899 but would later attend Lincoln Jefferies University (Hammond, Indiana) where he received a business law certification. The Bowman family continued to live in the property until 1962 when Bowman suffered a heart attack and the family was required to sell their home. The dwelling has been converted into a business office (date unknown) and houses Americare. In 2006 a large one-story addition was added to the rear and south elevation. The addition has compromised the integrity of the building and thus does not appear to be eligible under Criterion A (history), Criterion B (person), or Criterion C (architecture) for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as an individual listing or as part of a historic district. For these reasons it is marked "not eligible".

Tax Assessment. Scott County Tax Assessor’s Office, Benton, Missouri.

40. (cont.) Description of environment and outbuildings. Expand box as necessary, or add continuation pages.
The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO on the southeast corner of Scott St. and North St; fronting Scott St. The property is bounded to the east by a hedge line separating 214 Scott St. from 113 W. North St. (residential dwelling converted to commercial). Located to the south is a paved alleyway. Malone Park is to the west across Scott Street. To the north across North Street is a combination of residential dwellings and commercial buildings. A well manicured lawn with a brick bulkhead delineates the property from the public sidewalk. A wide brick paved walkway leads to the front entrance from the public sidewalk. A large yard with various trees and shrubs is located to the south. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a two and one-half story brick Colonial Revival style dwelling with a side gable roof clad in asphalt shingles with wide overhanging eaves with dentils. The front slope of the roof features three gable dormers with returned cornice and multi-light arch windows. The façade is symmetrical with five bays and brick quoins. The façade features a more formally designed centered entrance with a one-story half-circular portico supported by Doric columns, upper porch balustrade, and dentils in the cornice line. The entrance contains a wood panel door with sidelights and an elliptical fan light. It is flanked by two multi-light arched casement windows with brick gauged arches with a centered keystone. The second level features a centered door flanked by two 8/8 windows with brick lintels and keystones. The north elevation on the first level features two three-paired 8/8 windows with brick lintels and keystones. The second story has four smaller multi-light windows with brick lintels and keystones. The gable end contains two arched multi-light windows with brick arches and keystones. The south elevation while difficult to document due to trees, appears to be similar to the north elevation. A large one-story brick addition was constructed (2006) adjoining the northeast corner and wraps around to the east elevation at the south corner. The east elevation is difficult to document due to the large addition and the original one-story brick garage located at the north corner of the elevation. The rear (east) roof line is visible and located of the roof slope is a shed dormer flanked by gable dormers with arched multi-light windows. The brick garage has been converted into an office with an entrance fronting North Street. The large one-story brick addition is difficult to document due to visibility, but does have a concrete driveway leading to it from North Street.

Description: See below

Façade and south elevation – looking northeast – showing church, school and Front Street.

South elevation – looking northeast
Designed in the Late Gothic Revival style, the St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church is well preserved and is locally significant under Criterion C, Architecture for its Late Gothic Revival design. It is eligible as an individual listing and as part of a historic district comprised to a courtyard between the church and the school building.

The interior of the church retains the majority of its original architectural details; timber criss-crossed ceiling, light fixtures, brick wall surface and pews. A concrete archway connects the church with the school building to the north. The archway leads over the original glass. The rear (east) elevation has a shed roof line on the first level with an entrance below flanked by small windows with a gabled roofline clad in slate shingles. The façade features a front-facing gable with buttress and a cross located on the point of the gable.

The construction contract was awarded to builders John O'Brien and Michael Lawler. Groundbreaking for the new church was held on November 2, 1937 and the cornerstone was laid on March 17, 1938 (St. Patrick’s Day). Engraved on the white cornerstone are the words "St. Francis Xavier Church A.D. 1938." Placed inside the cornerstone was a current copy of the Sikeston Herald depicting photos of the new church and stories of the church history, coins for the time period, samples of Missouri state sales tax tokens, and relics from members of the congregation. On December 3, 1938 (feast of St. Francis Xavier) the dedication of the new church was held. St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church was constructed at the cost of $24,500. The seating capacity of the new church was 350 compared to 110 in the previous church building. Upon the completion of the church, the previous church was converted into the parish hall. Designed in the Late Gothic Revival style, the St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church is well preserved and is locally significant under Criterion C, Architecture for its Late Gothic Revival design. It is eligible as an individual listing and as part of a historic district comprised of St. Francis Xavier School and St. Francis Xavier Rectory.

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO on the northeast corner of N. Stoddard St. and W. Front Street. It fronts west on N. Stoddard Street. Located to the north on the same parcel is the St. Francis Xavier School, to the rear (east) is concrete playground area and St. Francis Xavier Pre-School is located to east on the lot behind the playground. Across W. Front St. is St. Francis Xavier Parish Center. A brick paved area is located in front (east) of the church with a manicured grassy area before it meets Stoddard St. A manicured grassy area is also located on the south elevation between the church and a brick sidewalk. A brick walkway is located to the north of building separating the church and school building. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a two-story brick church (c. 1938) designed in the Late Gothic Revival style with a cruciform footprint and steeply pitched cross gable roofline clad in slate shingles. The façade features a front-facing gable with buttress and a cross located on the point of the gable and has an arched umbrage entrance with a large arched wood tracery triple-paired window on the second level. Decorative masonry is located above the arched entrance and features a pattern of five crosses with brick corbelling above the row of crosses. Brick steps with iron railings and brick landing leads to the entrance. An arched entrance is located at the west corner of the south elevation followed to the east by a four arched windows each separated by a buttress, then a small side-gable and two more arched windows with buttresses. Located within the side-facing gable with buttress; the first level has two small rectangular windows and a three-paired arched window above. The north elevation has the same architectural details with the exception of the entrance door, instead is a small arched window. The rear (east) elevation has a shed roof line on the first level with an entrance below flanked by small windows with a three narrow arched windows centered in the gable end on the second level. Windows are all original with a protective glass installed over the original glass. The interior of the church retains the majority of its original architectural details; timber criss-crossed ceiling, light fixtures, brick wall surface and pews. A concrete archway connects the church with the school building to the north. The archway leads to a courtyard between the church and the school building.

The St. Francis Xavier School was constructed on a lot that previously held a domestic dwelling. Originally, the school was located at 327 W. Front St. in a building that was converted from a domestic dwelling, according to Sanborn Maps. In 1930 the church purchased a two-story brick dwelling (c. 1912) located at 217 W. Center St., in 1930, to house the school and convent. In May 1950, construction for the new school (third location) and convent was launched. The architectural firm, Carroll and Dean was commissioned to design the new school. Carroll had previously designed the St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church (c. 1938). The first graduation of the eight grade class was held on May 27, 1951 with students attending class in the new building for only a few weeks prior. Upon completion of the building cost of construction totaled $180,000. Housed in the building were classrooms, an office, kindergarten classes, a playroom, cafeteria and a convent for the Sisters. Dedication of the new school building was held on September 19, 1951. Designed in the Modern Movement style, the St. Francis Xavier Catholic School is well preserved and is locally significant under Criterion C, Architecture for its Modern Movement design and is eligible as part of a historic district comprised of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church and St. Francis Xavier Rectory.

The building is situated in downtown Sikeston, MO fronting N. Stoddard Street. The two-story school building is located between the St. Francis Xavier Church (south) and an alleyway (north) with the St. Francis Church Rectory beyond the alleyway to the north. To the east (rear) of the building is a concrete paved playground area. A chain link fence separates the playground from the lot to the east where the St. Francis Xavier Church Pre-School is located. A small brick paved courtyard separates the school building and church building. Located to the front (west) of the school building is a manicured grassy lawn. The setting is that of a small town.

This is a Modern Movement style two-story brick building (c. 1951) with a flat roof, rectangular footprint and a blind bay on the façade. The southwest corner of the building holds a concrete archway that connects the school building to the church building to the south. The archway serves as an entrance to a courtyard between the school and church. The north and south elevation feature several multi-light/3 windows and entrances on the first and second level. The rear (east) elevation features multi-light/2 windows with a covered canopy and entrance. The windows are original and most have air condition window units installed in the lower half. An exterior brick chimney is located on the northeast corner (rear) of the building.
