This general area is the center commercial area of "old Rockaway".
Many hillside streets have native stone rip rap to solve erosion on the steep grades.
Since Rockaway is on the bank of Lake Taneycomo where water sports, boating and fishing all were important, one of the first structures built in the new town must have been a dock. This early postcard of Rockaway Beach was made by Blake Photos.

THIS IS PROBABLY THE ONE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF THIS DATA FORM!
Lake Taneycomo Was ‘The Place to Go’

Word of mouth and attractive mailing pieces did much to make Rockaway Beach “the place to go” for a pleasant summer vacation. People came by automobile to Rockaway Beach or by train from Springfield to the Branson area. From this point they came by “bus,” “hack,” or “boat” to Rockaway Beach, Ozark Beach or Forsyth.

Dancing was a popular pastime aboard the excursion boats as well as at the resort sites in the 1920s, and musical aggregations changed places to add interest and romance to the summer outings.

The Merriam’s Summer Home

Next to fishing, swimming, waterskiing, etc., favorite pastime of the early tourists was to send postcards, brochures, booklets, and the like to the folks back home. Scenes from two of the favorites are shown on this page.

Whylaway (above) built in 1920-21 was the summer residence of Willard and Anna Merriam. The unique flaring, pagoda type roof, made eave troughs and down spouts unnecessary.

The property today, as appealing and attractive as ever, is known as Gotts Landing.
REST and PLAY at ROCKAWAY

Rockaway Beach is one of the outstanding resorts of the entire Ozark Mountains region. Every night delightfully cool and fog spooktown. Swimming, fishing, canoeing, and speed-boat racing, horseback riding, tennis, miniature golf and dancing on the latest floor in the Ozarks. Also, golf on a sporty course.

TWO MODERN HOTELS

HOTEL TANEYCOMO

Running rates, electric lights, private shower baths and toilets in every room. Excellent home-cooked meals. Poultry, fresh milk and fruit cream supplied from our own farm. Surprisingly low American-plan rates. Open June 30th to Sept. 14th.

HOTEL ROCKAWAY

Open throughout the year. American plan. A number of rooms in this hotel have private bath tubs, some rooms with detached toilets and bath. Electricity. The same splendid, home-cooked meals as the other hotel.

35 HOUSEKEEPING BUNGALOWS

Completely furnished with private shower baths and toilets, electricity; these delightful bungalows are rented by week or season.

THE MERRIAM COMPANY

TANEYCOMO, MO.

68 Miles South of Springfield, Mo.
The most concentrated and diversified strictly resort community in the Ozarks is Rockaway Beach on Lake Taneycomo. Here, stretched about a mile along the shore and reaching back into the surrounding hills, are accommodations to care for five thousand tourists, with every thing to provide for their entertainment. Here there is intense activity during a seven months' season, and a "ghost" town of around 150 permanent residents during the remaining five. Rockaway's existence and sole subsistence comes from its resorts. Visitors seem to love the environment because they come in increasing numbers every year, notwithstanding other competing resort areas that have come into being since it was started some forty years ago.

Lake Taneycomo, of course, is the reason for Rockaway. This was the first large man-made lake in the Ozarks, completed in 1914. Resorts along its shores sprang up immediately. They flocked together at Rockaway, thus making it into a real community, the only one of its size and kind in the Ozarks.

It is not the purpose of this article to give any general description of Rockaway and all that it has to offer to the vacationist, particularly the family group. Thousands of people have visited this attractive spot that, while still fairly young in years, has learned by experience how to care for them; and many articles have been written about it. Rather, we will talk about the man and wife who founded and are responsible for the present Rockaway and whose descendants still are carrying on.

The man was Willard Merriam. The time was shortly after the lake was formed. The place, the old Kenshaw farm that for years had stood on the bend of the White River near where Bull Shoals Creek empties in. Its productive crop land had been inundated by the lake waters, leaving beautiful but rough hills and a long shore line. Merriam was a successful real estate operator in Kansas City, Kans. Hearing of the new lake he came for an inspection and wound up buying 4600 acres, including the farm.

He platted a real estate development, his primary plan being to sell cottage sites to the tired business man of the city who could find here complete rest and relaxation; and this he did, including the immediate construction of two cottages for commercial use and a summer home for his family. Lots were sold to others who built rental vacation cottages, and two (the Crist brothers), constructed the Rockaway Hotel, the grand and glorious pioneer in resort accommodations.

Rockaway Beach, oldest among the many Ozarks' lake resorts.

Anna, developers of Rockaway.

Willard Merriam and his wife,
He engaged in an intensive promotion campaign covering the entire middle west, urging the health restoring qualities of the setting to that tired business man, and did so in such glowing terms that they have not been equalled since. (An extract from one of his brochures is printed on this page).

Merriam died in 1923 after the hard job of getting the development started had been done. His wife, Anna, a far-sighted woman of business ability, then took over. She modified his plan of development by deciding that the major family activity should be the operation of resort hotels rather than the sale of real-estate. She accordingly (in the mid-twenties) built the Hotel Taneycomo and cottages, and before they were completed bought the Hotel Rockaway and operated them in the name of Merriam Company, a family affair. When she died in 1927 the hotels were started on their successful career as the leading resort hotels of the Ozarks.

Family management continued on after her death. A son-in-law, R. S. Coughenour took over the reins that today are shared with his son, R. M. Coughenour, and the two are carrying on in the tradition set by Mrs. Merriam.

The Taneycomo and Rockaway enjoy a “city” clientele. Guests, many of whom have been repeating for years, come principally from St. Louis, Kansas City, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Wichita and Memphis. They stand out for the excellence of their service and cuisine, and today are recognized as the oldest in the Ozarks to be under one continuous family ownership.

Commodious, rustic lobby of hospitable Hotel Taneycomo.

(continued from page 15) The three generations of the Merriam family are responsible for raising the standards of Ozarks resort accommodations and to place them on a par with the best to be found anywhere.

The Merriams of course have not been alone in Rockaway’s development. Other people came in at an early date to make their own substantial contribution. Some of them were show people who, strange to say, came here to engage in the resort business when Vaudeville was dying a lingering death on the nation’s boards. Among them, (principally man and wife teams) were the Steve Burtons (still a cottage operator), Homan Nestells, George Halls, Ralph Prestons, Dave Roberts, Jack Waids and, later Hal Fontinelles. They became the only “colony” of troupers that the Ozarks ever have had, and a special feature some of these days will be written about them.

(Staff Note: “Taneycomo” was the original name given to Rockaway, but this later was changed by Mrs. Merriam to Rockaway Beach, copied from a New York resort that she had visited, thus avoiding the confusion that had resulted from bearing the name of the lake).

There lies an historic estate in Taney County where it is said that President Harry Truman "shot craps" while attending a party. Built by a Springfield politician in the early twenties, it is nestled in the dense forests near Rockaway Beach and has earned the name "Trumanwood."
Such quiet surroundings make the perfect place for creating, so it's no wonder artist Betty Jo Alkire chose this serene haven over a more fast-paced life.

"Some people talk about having a raunchy little place in the country that they escape to," chuckles Betty Jo. "Bill and I decided to make this our permanent residence."

But in reality, Betty Jo and husband Bill spend much of their time on the road. Each season brings a different need for Betty Jo's talent at capturing the best of people. Whether it's in her successful freelance business as a portrait artist or her talent for passing on what she has learned to other artists.

In the spring and summer, Betty Jo is busy operating the Portrait Artist's Concession at Kansas City's Worlds of Fun.

In the fall, she participates in the National Festival of Craftsmen at Silver Dollar City as the only portrait artist allowed into the prestigious show since 1971.

The months in between are filled with drawing. Betty Jo estimates she recreates 5,000 heads each year in her freelance work and in working promotions for

IT WASN'T ALL mountain music in the Missouri Ozarks. In the early 1920s, the above orchestra from Kansas City was typical of those which vacationed in the hill country. Note the musical instruments — the Sousaphone, saxophone, clarinet, trombone, banjo, accordion, etc. There's no doubt about it, this was the era of "swing." Photo courtesy of Jerry Gideon.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES

Bldg. originally had veranda across front surrounded by rustic, peeled -post half wall. Veranda roof was supported by rustic cedar posts. Veranda probably rested on piers; a decorative adirondack stick-style lattice work concealed piers. By the 1950's veranda had been enclosed & stick work concealing piers was gone. Subsequently, space between piers on n.e. end underpinned and area enclosed.

A 50's beach scene at busy Rockaway Beach.
ROCKAWAY'S POST OFFICE in January, 1919, was designated "Taneycomo, Mo." Fearing it might be duplicated or otherwise cause confusion, Jacob Mueller, first postmaster, changed the name from Taneycomo to Rockaway Beach. The first post office was located in the Mueller store (above) on Beach Street where the Light House building now stands.

In an article titled “The Origin and Growth of Rockaway Beach,” by Stephen Burton, which appeared in the Spring, 1963, Anniversary issue of the White River Valley Historical Quarterly, we learn a few things about Rockaway Beach and “Captain” Bill Roberts (left).

When Captain Bill established the ever popular Sportsmen’s Hotel and Restaurant (below), he gave Rockaway the first cafe on the Beach. “Captain Bill,” Mr. Burton explained, even before establishing his own business, was manager of the dance pavilion “and with a good band established the first all-summer public dance in the entire area.

... We all had fun exchanging dance bands and people two nights each week with Branson. Rockaway’s band and dancers would board a dance boat operated by the Sammy Lane Dock, dance all the way to Branson, get off and enjoy an evening at the pavilion, and then dance home to Rockaway on the boat. The next night it was vice versa.”

In the course of his article on Rockaway Beach, Mr. Burton proudly noted that: “The popularity and the business of a new thriving resort called for the building of a school. The Merriam Company donated the land, and after a special vote, the rural district school was moved to Rockaway Beach...”

Among the many things to see and do, once you are settled for a glorious vacation, is the trip through the romantic Shepherd of the Hills region, easily accessible from any of our resorts and an enjoyable adventure for every member of the family.

It was to this region that Harold Bell Wright came a number of years ago, broken in health but strong in spirit and faith. Here in a land where there were only trails, when strangers seldom passed that way, he lived for months among the simple folks of the hills, finally emerging from his seclusion, strong again in body and mind, and giving to us the lovable characters destined to endear themselves to millions who have read his novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills."

One walks along the "trail nobody knows how old," visits Sammy's Lookout, Mutton Hollow, Dewey Bald, Old Matt's Cabin, Uncle Ike's Postoffice, the caves—all pretty much the same as when the famous novelist gave to a world-wide circle of readers this simple love story of the hills.

You will want to tour the Shepherd of the Hills Country as one of the high lights of your vacation!

ATTRACTIONS

SWIMMING—Swimming appeals to every member of the family, and the natural beaches on the shores of Lake Taneycomo and on the banks of the clear tributary streams lure the vacationist for a dip almost as soon as he arrives. For the experienced swimmer and diver there is plenty of depth for his aquatic exhibitions, while the more timid will find shallower water more to his liking. Even the tots are safe under the eyes of their guardians, for descent into the deeper water at these free beaches is very gradual. Some of the individual resorts maintain private swimming pools for the use of their guests.

History and Significance

Small typical resort cabin. Steve Burton, an early twentieth-century vaudevillian, was one of the first show business people to invest in Rockaway Beach. Burton's Cottages motor court was built by Burton's family. The Burton's retired here in 1936. They had toured with the Nestell Vaudeville Troupe.

Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Cement retaining wall on north and south. Wall on south curves northward, leading into entrance of building on east as though both were part of same resort.

Michel serves Napoleon

Jonathan Michel, the founder of one of the largest families in the Tri-Lakes area, served as one of Napoleon's bodyguards for 14 years. None of the bodyguards was less than six feet and six inches tall. He was the great-great-grandfather of Berthold Jacob Michel, who emigrated to the United States in 1865. Generations between them included Jonathan Michel II and his son Rudolph Michel, who was four feet and 10 inches tall.

Two of Rudolph's brothers, Ferdinand and Solomon, ran away from home to Italy and never returned. After the boys left, their mother found that they had left a good pair of shoes behind, according to family history. She decided to send the shoes to them by wire. She hung the shoes on the telephone wire and a few days later, she found a pair of old ragged shoes on the wire in place of the good ones. She thought the boys got their shoes.

Berthold Jacob Michel of Switzerland, his wife Susan and three children first settled in Pittsburg, Pa. They moved to Illinois in 1868, and to Missouri in 1871, settling in St. Louis. By then, they had seven surviving children. In 1882, they moved to Barton County, then to Taney County in December, 1885 with five of their children.

They traded a blind mare for their homestead, and got two calves "to boot." The homestead at Hog Jaw Bend or McKinney Bend on the White River (now Lake Taneycomo) is still occupied by the Exie Michel family. Exie is the uncle of Edwin Michel, who is interviewed in a related story. Another uncle, Bill Michel, lives nearby.

Edward Benjamin Michel, Berthold and Susan's youngest child, was born in 1877 in St. Louis. Called "Edward, Edwin and Ed" in the family history, he attended the old Mt. Grove School. In 1905, he married Ethel Rebecca Pickett of Kirbyville. They lived on the homestead which he farmed, and in 1916 he became an ordained Baptist minister. Ed and Ethel had 12 children, including three sets of twins. Vernon and Ernest, born in 1911, were the second set of twins. Vernon was Edwin's father.

Rockaway Beach was just across the lake from the Michel homestead, which can be reached from Long Beach road (Route T east of Branson). The Michel children crossed the river by boat and worked in Rockaway Beach, Ed said. Brothers Lee and Vern worked at Captain Bill's restaurant there. (Lee Michel is the longtime owner of Michel's Restaurant, for many years located in Branson. Several years ago, Lee and his wife Virginia moved the restaurant to its present location in Lakeview.)

In 1939, twins Ernie and Vern each made down-payments of five dollars on property which is now part of the resort, Ed said. There was one or two cabins on the land, he said. Then, the war came, and both did construction work for the government.

In 1940, Vern married Eleanor Louise Reese. Vern bought out Ernie's share of the land and cabins in Rockaway Beach and began building a resort.

Vern and Louise operated the resort during the tourism season. Vern worked with Ernie on construction during the off-season months. (Ernie's career as a builder and contractor resulted in the development of the Hiawatha Heights subdivision of Branson, as well as countless other projects. Lee Street and Michel Street in Branson are named for the family.)

Vern and Louise's four children, Sherry, Francie, Marilyn and Edwin, were graduated from Branson schools.

Editor's note: Michel family history is taken from "Jonathan Michel and Descendants" by Abby Michel Ruckman, who began researching in 1936 and completed it in 1970. The first printing was in October, 1978.

TN Staff Writer

Few Tri-Lakes area families can claim a century of more of residency. The Michel family is an exception, and fourth-generation direct descendant Edwin “Ed” Michel of Rockaway Beach lives just across the river from his ancestors’ first home.

Michel, 33, is Rockaway Beach’s mayor. He is also president of its chamber of commerce, a position he first held at age 18. With his wife Pam, he owns and operates Michel’s Motor Court in Rockaway Beach, which was built by his parents, the late Vernon Michel and Louise Michel Duvall. He also owns and operates Ozark-Wide Reservations, a tour and travel service headquartered in Branson.

“I’ve never worked for anyone else,” he said. “Except I passed out flyers for a mini-golf course when I was about 11 or 12.”

His business career began early. He was 14 years old when his father died in 1968, and he and his mother continued to operate the family resort in Rockaway Beach.

He was graduated from Branson High School in 1972, and from The School of the Ozarks with bachelor’s degrees in business and mass media in 1975. At age 19, he married Pam Gibson of Branson.

Ed and Pam did, at one time, consider pursuing careers out of the Tri-Lakes area. Of the four children of Vern and Louise, he is the only one who lives in Taney County at present. Sherry Lemasters and Francie Dunham live in Los Angeles, Calif., and Marilyn Whetstone lives in Springfield, Texas.

“Pam and I made that decision (to stay here),” he said. “We both felt we wanted to stay here because of our families. There may be more money or a better living somewhere else, but our families are here.”

Only a few months after Ed was graduated from high school, he was elected chamber of commerce president.

“I was president for five years — maybe it’s because no one else wanted it, I really don’t remember. But I was very involved with the motel and the community.”

He is again serving as chamber of commerce president, as well as mayor, and he finds community leadership more complicated now than he did 15 years ago.

“The community spirit is lacking. People drag their feet, and talk instead of do.”

Like many other people actively involved in many civic and business organizations, he has experienced some disappointments. “They (volunteers) are all ‘gung ho’ until they walk out of the room,” he said.

One organization that he remains enthusiastic about is Pack 93 of the Cub Scouts. He serves as Cub Master.

“We (he credits Jack Purvis for its success) began the program with about 30 boys three years ago. There are 78 members now.”

He is also currently a member of the Marketing Committee for the Branson/Lakes Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Branson/Hollister Rotary Club.

Most of his time, at present, is devoted to developing his business, Ozark-Wide Reservations. About 60 percent of the business involves organizing group tours to Branson and Eureka Springs, although tours to other areas are also part of the work. A reservations service for individuals is also offered. His organization publishes and distributes 425,000 Ozarks visitors’ guides.

The business has grown from two full-time staff members to eight, and he expects to add eight or nine staff members during the coming tourism season.

Ed said the business receives about 50,000 enquiries by telephone each year, from its five inbound WATS lines.

Although the Rockaway Beach resort was sold several years ago to another party, due to financial problems it was returned to Ed and his wife Pam. They are embarking on their third season of owning and operating the 23-unit facility.

And he is continuing to fulfill his goals as mayor of Rockaway Beach. A $2.1 million sewer project is underway - a massive undertaking for a town of 300 residents and a $100,000 annual budget. He also wants to build the town's cash reserves, and eliminate the "petty squabbling that goes on in any small town," he said.

Among his future goals is bringing cable television into Rockaway Beach. He also is considering a project to eliminate the Rockaway Beach Special Road District while maintaining the city's share of the present tax for its own street maintenance projects.

Ed and Pam have also provided a fifth generation of Taney County natives. Their son Benji is 10 years old; daughter Alisha is seven.

Although Ed's career is still in its early stages, he has developed a philosophy of success.

"Most people measure success financially," he said. "But very few native-born Taney Countians are worth in excess of a million dollars. Most of those people have moved here from somewhere else."

"You have to put value back into the community. You have to measure success in time contributions, or in people who have become good friends. Those are measures of success."

This cabin and others here is one of the most important group of historic cabins with high integrity of plan and appearance. This is a classic pattern book cabin (see appendix #60).

43. History and Significance

Dr. Knowles, one of numerous Springfieldians to invest in Rockaway cabins, built this classic resort cottage; most of these cabins received remodeling in 1950's. Kearney moved to area in 1970 and put the 3 small complexes all together as one.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings

Gently curving block of cabins faces island park.
